WORK ON RESERVOIR A WAGE INCREASE

Was Delayed for a Time Because of the Storm

The preliminary work that was begun at the new reservoir in Centralville on Monday and the work on the new boulevard walls has met with a temporary delay on account of the storm. The work at both places, however, will be resumed just as soon as weather conditions will permit.

Some of the steel for the new reservoir has arrived and is being carted from the side track in Jackson street to the reservoir. The steel will be used to reinforce the concrete and will be shaped by the water department. Commissioner Barrett decided to do the shaping at the reservoir in order to avoid the extra haul. It shaped in the yard the steel would first have to be taken there and then removed to the reservoir. To eliminate one haul the forms will be taken to the reservoir. Only part of the steel has arrived but the rest is on the way.

Increase in Pay
Clinton P. Tuttle, department clerk in the office of Commissioner Brown at city hall, has received an increase of $1.32 a week, making his weekly salary $26.78 instead of $25.46 as heretofore. Mr. Tuttle was transferred last year from the auditor's office to the street department office.

Speaking of the increase, Commissioner Brown said to the city hall reporter for The Sun today, "that he would like to give Mr. Tuttle a greater increase. Mr. Tuttle came here last year," said Mr. Brown, "with the understanding that he would get an increase that would make his pay equal to that of others doing similar work for the city and in city hall. Mr. Tuttle does considerable extra work and I decided to advance his pay to $26.78, the same as is paid the assistant superintendent of streets and assistant superintendent of sewers."

Competitive Examination

ARREST AVERILL
Charge of Fraudulently Using Mails

BOSTON, March 22.—George Averill, manager of the Eastern Financial Trust Co. of Lynn was arrested today by postoffice inspectors on a charge of using the mails fraudulently. The complainant was the Service Specialty Co. of Natick, the manager of which, Captain J. S. Hece, claimed that Averill wanted him to sell the Natick company to John Roberts of Southern Pines, N. C.

The postoffice authorities claim that Roberts was a friend of Averill's.

LAWRENCE STRIKE
Stationary Firemen Are Still Out

LAWRENCE, March 22.—Fewer operatives were turned away from the mills today than on any day since the strike was practically settled. Further gains were reported at the Everett mills, the only plant now handicapped by a lack of employees.

The stationary firemen were still out at the American Woolen Co.'s mills here and the Pemberton mills this morning but the plants were kept in operation, the boilers being run by other workers.

ADVANCE IN WAGES
Expected by Operatives in Ware

WARE, March 22.—An advance in wages of at least five per cent is expected by the operatives at the Stevens Woolen mills next Tuesday. The management has notified its employees that when they get their envelopes they will find that their pay has been increased, beginning last Monday.

The Otis Cotton mills recently advanced wages. Although they are controlled by the interests which own the West Warren mills, closed on account of a strike there has been no trouble here.

MADE SWEDISH MINISTER
STOCKHOLM, March 22.—W. A. F. Ekengren, at present, counselor of legation and charge d'affaires at the Swedish legation in Washington, has been promoted to the rank of Swedish minister at Washington in succession to Count Albert Ehrensvard.

A WAGE INCREASE

Of 10 Per Cent. Granted to the Fall River Operatives

FALL RIVER, March 22.—An advance of ten per cent. in wages March 25 was offered to the operatives by the Fall River Cotton-Manufacturers' association this afternoon, and as assurances had been given that the increase will be accepted there will be no general strike next Monday.

A CONFERENCE BETWEEN MILL MEN AND TEXTILE COUNCIL

FALL RIVER, March 22.—That there would be quiet conditions in the cotton mills of Fall River was strongly indicated this forenoon and the sentiment was that there would be no general strike next Monday morning to enforce a wage advance of 10 per cent. The Manufacturers' association, has agreed to have its president confer with the textile council's executive and endeavor to reach a better understanding. The conference was arranged for 11 a. m. The union officials while somewhat anxious, were confident that the association has decided to post notices in all its mills announcing that the coming advance in wages will be one of ten per cent. as ordered in the seven mills of the Fall River from works company on Wednesday by M. C. D. Borden of New York.

Special calls have been issued for members of all the textile unions of the city tonight to be followed by a session of the Fall River textile council. While the union operatives recently requested an increase in wages of 15 per cent. and were refused after their rejection of the five per cent. raise there is reason to believe that they will favorably consider an offer to raise their pay to 10 per cent. No element in the city, whether among the mill owners, operatives or business men is prepared to stand a protracted strike and all interests were hopeful that an industrial struggle would be averted. Fall River is almost wholly dependent upon a single industry, the manufacture of print cloths, and during the past three years dull markets for goods, the high cost of cotton and consequent drastic curtailment have cost the city heavily. For this reason no element is prepared to force a general stoppage of machinery especially when the industry is showing pronounced signs of revival.

A ten per cent. advance will increase the wage basis from 18.5 to 20.5 cents per hour for weavers regulars. For the operatives of the Iron Works company, a full complement of 5,000 operatives working, it will mean $2,500 additional wages a week. For all the mills, figuring on a full force of about 35,000 operatives employed, it would mean over $27,000 additional a week in wages. There is at present a shortage of operatives. Manufacturers outside all over New England have been following the wage movement here very closely, as has been evident from their frequent inquiries. There is little question among the mill managers and owners here but that a 10 per cent. advance in wages will be made by cotton manufacturers throughout the rest of New England. If Fall River manufacturers as a whole grant the advance.

The mills represented in the Fall River Manufacturers' association employ nearly 25,000 persons.

The Fall River Iron Works have 5,000 more in thread, yarn, quilt and gingham mills there are nearly 2,000 additional operatives when help and orders are plentiful.

Another development of interest today was the announcement that Mr. Borden had advanced the price of the products of the American Printing Co.'s works here, which are now, to 55 cents a yard. The advance will become effective next Tuesday and is expected to influence the prices of print cloths in the mills here. The advance was in a measure foreshadowed by Mr. Borden's raise of ten per cent. in wages.

LARCENY OF FLOUR

Was Charged Against Man Arraigned in Police Court Today

This morning's session of the police court was a comparatively short one, there being but few prisoners in the dock.

Harry P. Cook entered a plea of guilty to the larceny of 24 pounds of flour from John E. Saunders on the first of March. It was alleged that the defendant stole the flour from a freight car in Western avenue. Although he was found guilty he was placed on probation for two months.

Mrs. Jeanette W. Pike of Tewksbury, was charged with violation of the milk law, it being alleged that she or one of her servants had added water to the milk. By agreement the case was continued until April 1.

BOARD OF INQUIRY

To Consider Charges of Inefficiency Against Col. Lombard

BOSTON, March 22.—A board of inquiry today began a private hearing to consider the charges of inefficiency and mismanagement that have been brought against Col. Walter E. Lombard of the Coast Artillery Corps. The hearing, which was held at the state house, was attended by many prominent military officials. The board will decide whether Colonel Lombard will be tried by court-martial and will make a report to Governor Foss.

Twenty-seven individual charges have been brought against the colonel, who was recently relieved of his command by Gov. Foss pending the outcome of the inquiry. He is charged with being intoxicated on two occasions, with relating improper stories at a public banquet at Fall River, with bringing false accusations against officers, with making false certificates and with knowingly signing false payrolls.

Col. Lombard claims that he is a victim of a conspiracy on the part of his brother officers.

SHOE STITCHERS

Ask Manufacturers for More Pay

LYNN, March 22.—A conference was held today between Charles O. Widgen, representing the McKay stitchers and a committee of the 35 Lynn shoe manufacturers whose factories are involved in the McKay stitchers' demands for a higher price list for piece work. Mr. Widgen was not authorized to make any concessions and when the conference adjourned it was with the understanding that Widgen should go before the joint council of the United Shoe Workers of America and submit a proposition that the matter at issue be referred to an arbitration board. Widgen told the committee that under no circumstances would his union allow the question to be adjudicated by the state board of conciliation and arbitration. He would not promise to recommend that the local board of arbitration settle the question.

STRIKE THREATENED

In the Mills in New Bedford

NEW BEDFORD, March 22.—The second advance of five per cent in the wages of the Fall River mill operatives makes the labor situation in this city extremely acute. Officials of the textile unions here declare that it means that the manufacturers of this city must make some concession or a strike will follow. Sources of five per cent. advance to go into effect next Monday have been posted in the mills represented in the Manufacturers' association in accordance with the offer recently made by the manufacturers of the association. The operatives, however, think this is not sufficient and now that Fall River mill men have conceded the second advance the mills of this city face a labor crisis.

GEORGE F. RICHARDSON

Prominent Lawyer and One of Lowell's Leading Citizens Dead

Lowell has lost one of its most prominent citizens in the person of George F. Richardson, a former mayor of this city, and a very learned attorney, who passed away this morning at his late home, 172 Nesmith street.

Deceased had not enjoyed the best of health for the past seven years at which time he gave up his practice and retired. One week ago his condition grew worse and he breathed his last at 3 o'clock this morning. His demise will be keenly felt all over the city, especially among the members of the Massachusetts bar.

George Francis Richardson was born on December 6, 1829, at Tringboro. He was the son of Daniel and Hannah Adams Richardson, his father having been an attorney-at-law and a prominent citizen of Tringboro. The ancestors of both his parents were honorably identified with the early history of New England.

Having pursued his preparatory course of study at Phillips academy, Exeter, Mr. Richardson entered Harvard college in 1847, at the age of 18 years. Upon his graduation from college he entered the Dane Law school in Cambridge, from which at the age of 23 he graduated with honors, having director of the Prescott National bank, of the Stony Brook railroad and of the Vermont & Massachusetts railroad. He was also president of the Lowell Marine, Tringboro Co., of the Unitarian church, and the Ministry-at-Large.

Deceased was fond of literary pursuits. He loved his library, which is especially rich in the old English classics. Few literary men possess so large and so unique a collection of the various editions of the plays of Shakespeare as is contained in Mr. Richardson's library.

Deceased is survived by a bereaved wife, Caroline A., a daughter, Mrs. Marietta R. Jefferson, three grandchildren, Richardson E. Jefferson, Geo. H. Jefferson and Meta Jefferson.

ILLNESS OF JUROR

Interrupts Trial of Meat Packers

CHICAGO, March 22.—Arguments in the trial of the ten Chicago meat packers are off today by the sickness of one of the jurors. A physician was summoned to attend the sick juror before court convened and reported to Judge Carpenter that it would be inadvisable to have him in the jury box this morning. Court was then adjourned until afternoon when if the juror, H. F. Bucklin, is sufficiently recovered, Special Counsel Pierce Butler will begin his closing argument for the government.

THE LATE HON. G. F. RICHARDSON

received first prize for an essay. He practiced in Boston for two years and in 1855 he entered as partner in the law office of his brother, Daniel S. Richardson.

Though devoted to the practice of his profession, Mr. Richardson never forgot he was a citizen of Lowell. He was always alive to all that pertained to the welfare and honor of the city. Especially when the war of the Rebellion made its first demand upon the self-sacrifice and patriotism of the people, he stood forth as the trusted and accepted leader, and inspired his fellow citizens with courage and hope.

By his efforts a company which later was named Richardson Light Infantry in his honor was promptly raised and equipped in Lowell, and it had the honor of being the first company of three year men formed in Massachusetts. It was organized on the evening of April 19, 1861.

Mr. Richardson was placed in very many positions of trust and honor. In 1862 and '63 he served in the common council and the following year he was elected to the board of aldermen. In 1867 and '68 he served the city faithfully as mayor and during the last year of his term he was a delegate to the republican convention at Chicago, which nominated General Grant for his first election.

In 1871 and '72 he served in the Massachusetts senate and at the end of his term he retired from public life and devoted his time to his law business. He was a member of the school board, a trustee of the city libraries, president of the Middlesex Mechanics' association, city collector, director of Traders and Mechanics Insurance Co.

CAUSED A SENSATION

Premier Asquith Rejected Amendment to Minimum Wage Bill

LONDON, March 22.—Premier Asquith in the house of commons this afternoon refused to accept the miners' amendment to the minimum wage bill providing a minimum of $1.25 and 50 cents as the daily wage for men and boys respectively.

Enoch Edwards, labor member of parliament and president of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain immediately announced that the premier's rejection of the miners' amendment closed the door to an immediate settlement of the strike.

The house had just entered on the committee stage of the minimum wage bill when the miners' amendment was moved and Premier Asquith's announcement, the gravity of which was immediately recognized because it is practically certain to bring about another deadlock, caused a sensation among the members. In opposing the miners' amendment the premier said that he was inclined to think the figures reasonable ones but said that it was most undesirable to insert in the bill any specific minimum wage or to establish the precedent of fixing the rate of wages by act of parliament. It would, he pointed out, be particularly dangerous to the men themselves because if parliament once expressed its judgment that $1.25 was a fair minimum wage that same amount would be bound to be treated as the maximum.

The work of relieving the distress is getting beyond the means of the local charities and demands are now being made on the government to take it up. It is estimated that the miners thus far have lost in wages $20,495,550, besides the depletion of the miners' funds which will make another strike in any trade practically impossible for the next 18 months.

Factories and works of all kinds all over the country continue to close down and all the railroads are reducing their services to the minimum. The food supplies from abroad are also threatened. The bacon factories and creameries of Denmark, which depend entirely on England for their coal will soon have to discontinue their shipments to this country.

News comes today that one of the South American governments is contemplating the stocks of coal on hand in its ports for naval purposes which will prevent the shipment of coal to England. It is officially declared today that the Derbyshire pits will not be reopened until the surface work demands for increased wages have been complied with.

LIQUOR DAYLIGHT BILL

Was Killed by a Large Vote in State Senate

BOSTON, March 22.—The Massachusetts state senate yesterday afternoon "knocked the spots" off the so-called liquor daylight bill which was reported Wednesday by a majority of the liquor law committee.

This is the bill that provided that nowhere in Massachusetts, in towns, hotels or elsewhere should liquor be sold before 8 o'clock in the morning.

Although seriously opposed at the public hearing, the committee on liquor law by a vote of 6 to 5 reported this measure in the state senate. The measure came up yesterday afternoon in regular course.

Senator Clarke of Brockton, one of the liquor law committee, moved postponement. Only four senators favored this motion. Then the vote came on the bill itself. It was rejected without division or debate by a practically unanimous vote.

Bar and Bottle Bill

In the lower branch of the state legislature yesterday afternoon the committee on liquor law reported leave to withdraw on the petition to amend the bar and bottle act so that licenses may be issued for the transaction of the two kinds of business on the same premises, if the places where the bar and bottle business is transacted are physically divided.

The vote against the bill was five to six. Senator McLane, Representatives Doyle, Ford, O'Donnell and Reed are recorded dissenters.

$7,500 CAR STOLEN

Daring Robbery Took Place in Boston

BOSTON, March 22.—In less than two minutes after the chauffeur left to do some purchasing at a drug store, a 1906 Packard limousine, owned by John C. Spring of Newton Highlands, was taken from Boylston and Berkeley streets yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The chauffeur left the car at the corner and he had no more than entered the store when he looked out and discovered that it was missing. He immediately reported to the police that the car had been stolen. Unlike most 1912 Packard models this one is green. It is a six-cylinder. The chauffeur had no idea who drove away the car and the police were unable to locate it last night.

Both the chauffeur and the owner assert that the automobile was stolen. A reward for its return is offered.

For more than 50 years he had been connected with the Western Union Telegraph Co. Up to ten years ago he had been manager of the main office in Boston for 20 years.

Milady's Toilet Table

By Mme. D'ARVILLE

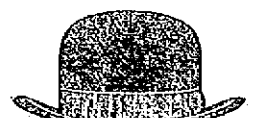

Enlarged pores, dark and discolored patches and similar blemishes of the complexion disappear in a week or ten days if a salution made by dissolving an original package of magenta in a half pint of witch hazel is rubbed on the face, neck and arms each morning.

This is a true complexion beautifier and should be used regularly instead of powder or other cosmetics. It preserves youthful charms and keeps the skin soft, smooth and white. Dry shampooing keeps the hair soft, wavy and richly lustrous. Too much water streaks and fades the hair and makes it dry and brittle. To make a shampoo powder, put a cupful of cornmeal in a fruit jar and mix with it a small original package of therop. Sprinkle a little on the head and brush it out thoroughly. The powder comes out easily and takes all dirt, dandruff and excess oil with it.

To remove superfluous hairs from face or forearms simply apply delatone paste. Mix enough powdered delatone with water to cover the hairs; apply and after two or three minutes wipe off, wash the skin and the hairs will be gone.

This treatment is safe, speedy and sure. Colds, catarrh and ordinary cases of sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck and asthma yield quickly to applications of Mother's Salve, rubbed in well before retiring. The world never saw its equal as a household remedy. It gives almost instant relief from aches, pains and sores.

Y. M. C. A. BASEBALL

The Lineup of Team Has Been Practically Decided Upon

At the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Hurd street tonight Manager Gumb of the association baseball team and the members of the team will hold a meeting at which plans for the coming season will be made and officers elected. While at present the lineup of the team is practically arranged a few changes may be made.

According to the present material on hand Manager Gumb has selected a very good lineup. Condon, who a few years ago pitched for the O. M. I. Cardinals and the T. R. & T. team of North Attleboro, has been signed to do the mound work. Another man to be given a try out for this position is Paul Stevens, who pitched for the association several years ago. For catcher, Percy Edwards, who played that position for the Lincoln last season, has been secured. Edwards is a very clever boy and through his friendship with Larry Gardner, third baseman for the Boston Red Sox, he had a chance to go to a league team this season for a try out. As he is rather high he decided to stay with the Y. M. C. A. this year and then may take the chance to catch fast company. Phibney, who has played with the team for several seasons will again be seen on the initial sack. Jenkins of last year's Lincoln team will play second base. Jimmy Gent, the star shortstop of the team for years, will be seen in his old position. Carl Stephens, who played with the Vermont college team, will play third. Norman Scott, of last year's team, will cover center field. Johnson, who several years ago managed the team, will play right field, and Mcweeney who played with the team last year and the year before will play left field. The team of 1912, will do the work in left field.

While it is rather early Manager Gumb has arranged to play games with Westford, Shirley, Townsend, Clinton independent teams and also with many local teams.

Track Meet

Tomorrow the second meet of the Sunday school track teams will be held at the gymnasium. The first meet was won by the First Trinitarian team. These meets will be held monthly and at the close of the schedule the winner of the largest number of meets will receive a beautiful cup. The meet will be in charge of Thomas R. Williams, boys' work director.

Plans are underway and several committees are working on the arrangement for the annual circus to be given by the building brothers. Now the committee is trying to secure a fitting place to present the show. When the place is selected an announcement will be made. A. J. Wicks, physical director of the association is general manager of the circus and the assistant general managers are Walter Muzzey and Theodore Pearson.

Looking for Quarters

At the present time a committee of the association is looking up a suitable place for the association to meet inasmuch as they must soon vacate their present quarters. The building is owned by Albert O'Hall and he plans to tear it down soon and as the new building will not be ready until August and while waiting for its completion other quarters are necessary.

The boy scout masters will meet at the association tomorrow evening when they plan to organize a local scout council. Plans will also be made before the end of the year to enter a team in a local league for athletic meets.

The boy scouts of the Elliot church, 18 in number, under the direction of Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, are making elaborate plans for the coming season.

This company has a beautiful camp at Colchester and the members plan to have a great season this year. The District of the boys' scouts will hold a mass track meet at Fox's field in the rear of the church on April 20. This is a very large company and has a considerable program since its formation. The company is in charge of Rev. E. C. Smith of the Congregational church in Dorset.

SAFE WAS BLOWN

Burglars Got Away With $25,000

CLEVELAND, O., March 22.—According to telephone advices received here the bank of Berea, a private institution at Berea, O., 12 miles west of here, was broken into by burglars last night and the safe, said to contain $25,000, blown. The burglars escaped with the entire sum.

The robbers effected an entrance into the office of Justice of the Peace, broke next door and drilled through the wall of his office and the wall of the bank directly into the bank vault. It was necessary to penetrate 55 inches of brick and mortar to reach the vault. Police discovered the robbery on his arrival at his office. Small coins were strewn all over the floor.

THREE CONVICTED

Men Found Guilty of Picking Pockets

BOSTON, March 22.—In the superior court before Judge Brown, George Clinton George Davis and John Dixon were yesterday convicted on a charge of attempted larceny from the person. On January 1, 1910, near Horticultural hall Gordon McKenzie saw four men lift the coat of an old man and search his pockets. McKenzie kept them in sight moving about from place to place until he met Patrolman Trotter. The four men were arrested and put in court. They furnished bail in $500 each and defaulted.

Dixon was arrested later in Chicago and Davis was arrested in Kansas City, Mo., while Clint was caught in Detroit. All three were brought back by the Boston police.

All have records and each are well known to the police as pickpockets. The trial of the case has taken several days.

CARBONOL is a powerful cleanser. If soap and water fail to clean anything to your satisfaction, add Carbonol to the water and see how quickly stains and grime vanish.

If you want to clean something, like a garbage-can, that is too greasy and foul for soap and water, try Carbonol and see the grease dissolve and the odors give place to perfect germ-free cleanliness.

If the presence of filth and decaying matter cannot be avoided, as is the case with garbage, sprinkle the stuff with a Carbonol solution to stop putrefaction, suppress odors and keep away flies.

If you find a stain on the carpet that water will not remove, try a Carbonol solution and see it vanish.

If there is a contagious disease in the house, soap and water cleanliness will not be enough. Mix a little Carbonol in the water you use and it will destroy every germ it comes in contact with and purify the air.

Carbonol has many other uses.

MONEY RECOVERED

Man Swallowed Bills Alleged to be Stolen

NASHUA, N. H., March 22.—Only after an emetic had been administered hypodermically last night by the city physician did Fred Tupper yield $15 which John Hall claims Tupper stole from him. Hall is a woodsman from Lincoln, N. H., and came to Nashua for a little recreation. He fell in with Tupper, a native of this city, who recently came back here.

They hired a room at No. Jarvis's home on West Pearl street late last evening. Mr. Jarvis complained to Police Capt. Cleary that his new lodgers were having a row in their room and wished them removed. When Capt. Cleary entered the room, Hall accused Tupper of taking his roll. Capt. Cleary looked himself to Tupper's right wrist and led him to the station house along with Hall. As seen as the twisters were taken off, Tupper pushed his hand into his right overcoat pocket and put something which he took out into his mouth. Tupperman Thomas McLoughlin saw Tupper push his hand into his right overcoat pocket and put something which he took out into his mouth. Tupperman McLoughlin shouted to Deputy Chief George H. Campbell, who caught Tupper by the throat. They struggled and the policeman present tried to pry Tupper's mouth open, but before they were successful he succeeded in swallowing something.

The physician was called and the medicine injected under the skin of Tupper's left arm soon caused him to throw up the contents of his stomach. First came a $5 National bank note and then a $10 yellow-back. The treatment yielded no further results and the bills were dried on a radiator to be used as evidence.

SUIT FOR $100,000

A HAT THE CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE

CHICAGO, March 22.—For several hours yesterday in Judge Conner's court, Miss Esther Mercer, a former student of the University of Chicago, who is suing Marion Talbot, dean of women at that institution, for $100,000 for alleged defamation of character, underwent a severe cross-examination. She still was on the stand when court adjourned.

At times yesterday Miss Mercer's answers to questions were heated, especially when reference was made to her fiance, Warren E. Reynolds, who gave her a hat that was worth $250. The alleged theft of a pom pom from this hat started a quarrel which ended in Miss Mercer's expulsion from the university. Miss Mercer said she learned shortly after she met Reynolds that he was a married man.

Miss Mercer told of her visit to the office of President Johnson after charges had been made against her by Dean Talbot.

"I said for God's sake can't you help me out?" she testified.

"What did the president say?" was asked.

"He told me he was too busy to listen to me."

rived here shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after a trip from Boston, establishing a new record for street railroading.

People have come here from Boston on street cars, but never before has the trip been made in one car. Two hundred and thirty miles were covered in about 20 hours' actual running time.

The big apple-green car was not as dazzling as it was when it left Park square, Boston early yesterday. But the members of the Street Railway club of Boston who made the trip were enthusiastic over the success of the journey. Two conductors and two motormen were in charge.

From Boston the car proceeded over the Boston & Worcester line to Worcester. The route taken then was through Springfield, Hartford and New Haven. After spending Wednesday night in New Haven, the trip was resumed at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. Yesterday the car passed through Bridgeport, Norwalk, Stamford, Portchester and Mount Vernon.

NERVOUS COLLAPSE

NEIGHBORS THOUGHT WOMAN HAD TAKEN POISON

BOSTON, March 22.—Thought at first to have swallowed a deadly poison because of the suddenness of her illness, Dora Rubin of 13 Seneca street in the South End was rushed to the City hospital yesterday forenoon and placed on the dangerous list.

After the surgeons tried in vain to find some symptom of poisoning, an investigation was ordered to see who had made the assertion that the young woman had swallowed poison. The Rubin girl lives with her married sister, Mrs. Max Rubin, and for the past month has been suffering from a nervous collapse caused by overwork. Yesterday morning, when she was stricken, several of the neighbors rushed in and, noting her condition, immediately circulated the story that she had taken poison. Someone telephoned to police headquarters that she was dying from poison and an ambulance was sent in a hurry. The family physician arrived first, however, and while he could find no symptoms of poison he determined to take no chances and allowed her to go to the hospital.

FRANK HEIFER

FOR WHICH MAN REFUSED $50 IS DEAD

HOLBROOK, March 22.—Elmore Kingsley's freak calf, which was half cow and half deer, died yesterday, to the infinite disgust of Kingsley, who had just turned down an offer of $50 by a Boston showman for it.

"The only way I can see of breaking even now is to stuff it and place it on exhibition," declared Kingsley, when told of the freak's death.

The calf lived sixteen days. The front part of it was a perfect reproduction in miniature of a cow. The hind half was just as perfect a reproduction of a young deer.

"It just couldn't make its feet behave, because the hind half could run like a deer, while the front half ran like a cow, so it just laid down and died," declared Kingsley's hired man. The freak has been seen by several hundred persons, who kept arriving at Kingsley's farm.

BOARD OF TRADE

PRESIDENT HARVEY B. GREENE.

GEN. HUGH BANCROFT.

SEC. JOHN H. MURPHY.

Prominent Men Addressed Members at Annual Banquet

The annual banquet of the Lowell board of trade was held in Associate hall last night and was attended by over 100 people, who were given the opportunity to listen to as good speakers as ever came to town. The subjects treated were all very important and interesting and they were handled in a precise and careful manner. The list of speakers comprised Hon. James E. O'Donnell, Gen. Hugh Bancroft, chairman of the directors of the port of Boston; Mr. Edward F. McSweeney, chairman of the board of trustees of the Boston Consumptives hospital; and Hon. Herman A. Mott, ex-city controller of New York. Detective William J. Barry was also booked as one of the speakers, but pressing business interrupted his trip to this city.

The guests were met at the railroad station late yesterday afternoon and taken to the York club, where they remained until 6:15 o'clock, when they were escorted to Associate hall. At that time the members of the association also arrived and until 6:15 o'clock a reception was held.

At 7 o'clock all present took seats around the festive board and after a delightful overture selection by Hibbard's orchestra which was in attendance, Rev. S. W. Cummings, pastor of the First Baptist church, offered prayer. The menu was a most elaborate one.

At the conclusion of the meal President Harvey B. Greene called to order and after a brief address of welcome presented as the first speaker, Mayor James E. O'Donnell, who spoke on the "City of Lowell." The mayor's address was as follows:

"The business interest of any community is the life-blood of its whole social system, and hence it is that gathering in a fair sample of the business interest of Lowell their future holds much of promise."

"I was informed recently by a member of this body that I am an exception to most of the mayors of Lowell, inasmuch as I attend the meetings of the board of directors, and show a personal interest in the work of the organization. In the few meetings that I have attended since my election to office, I have found the time well spent and have been impressed with the fact that in the Lowell board of trade, the community has an organization of which it may well feel proud; an organization of energetic, progressive, and well intentioned business men, and let me assure you, gentlemen of the board, that my absence from future meetings will be unavoidable. Energy produces satisfactory results, and the board of trade, by its energy, has produced such results. Time was, and not so long ago, when the local trade had merely a local habitation and a name, but its growth within a decade has been most remarkable and encouraging, both in numbers and influence, until today it is a prominent factor in the city's life and progress. One of its strongest features has been its intelligent and untiring work in bringing new and diversified industries to this city. Its results along these lines have been most gratifying, and, for instance, where ten years ago Lowell boasted of but two shoe manufacturing plants, we have now nine prosperous concerns in operation here. The work of the board of trade, which with the individual cooperation of some of its own members, resulted in the location of the Boston and Maine car shops in Elliptical building a $1,000,000 plant and 2000 skilled mechanics to our doors, is too fresh in the public mind to need more than a passing reference at this time. The success of the success of this organization has been the personal interest, enthusiasm and unselfish sacrifice of a large percentage of the membership in behalf of the entire community. There are at present, I believe, fifteen standing committees of the board, and hardly a day passes but we read in the press of some project being promoted by one or another of these committees, all aiming at the advancement of the general welfare of the community. Only a day ago, the board was prominently represented at the legislative session in behalf of the completion of the river road connecting Lowell and Lawrence by state highway. A short time ago, the Washington press dispatch told of the influence of the board with others at the national council, urging the improvement of the Merrimack river. The municipal council at present has before it for its consideration the important public market appropriation inaugurated by the board of trade. I could enumerate many other improvements and reforms of general advantage, such as the extension of express delivery, the removal of unsightly bill boards, improved boat rental service, better traffic regulations, etc., all brought about by this wide-awake organization."

"One of the greatest factors in a city's progress is community efficiency, which I am pleased to note is being successfully promoted by the board of trade. The strength of a community has two resources, the natural and the personal. The natural resources, consisting of the blessings bestowed by the Creator, must be developed by the personal resources, and by personal resources is meant the spirit, the character and the faith of the population. Effective men often arouse opposition, and they sometimes make mistakes, for it is human in error. But the community should encourage them and rally to their support. Hence, as a body of effective men, the Lowell board of trade is entitled to, and should receive the encouragement, support and cooperation of the citizens at large."

"Let us leave this banquet hall tonight with a firm spirit of co-operation, the great essential of community efficiency, and go forth with the determination to aid the board of trade in its good work. The business future of Lowell has a hopeful outlook. We have passed through an industrial lull. Our textile industries are about to give an increase in wages, painfully small, it is true, but nevertheless an increase, and it is up to us as our community's well-wishers to become imbued with a spirit of optimism and its attendant enthusiasm, and to post at the outskirts of our beloved city, the invitation: 'Come in. Don't stop to knock.'

General Bancroft, chairman of the directors of the port of Boston, was next introduced and his address, which was on the port of Boston, was as follows:

"It is no exaggeration to say that Lowell and the other important industrial cities of Massachusetts and New England have more at stake in the development of the port of Boston than has Boston itself, for Boston is not so much an industrial as it is a financial and mercantile centre."

"The great need of the industries of the state is effective distribution. We in Massachusetts can produce the goods in competition with anyone, but our problem is to get them to the consumer promptly and cheaply. The development of the port of Boston means lower rates and better service for every place that can ship and receive goods through the port."

"Lowell by the last census figures is using $2,830,745 worth of raw materials and turning out for $60,270,061 of finished product. Much of this is received from and distributed to distant points in part by water transportation. Lowell is many thousand dollars out of pocket each year because so much of this is passing through the port of New York. New England rates are usually made by adding the full local rate plus cost of delivery at New York to the New York sea and rail rate, thus:

Cotton piece goods, Lowell to Galveston per 100 pounds via N. Y. $6.11 (To New York 10c to Galveston 25c, total 35c.)

Cotton piece goods, Lowell to Galveston by way of Boston, 28c. (To Boston 17c, to Galveston 25c, total 42c.)

A saving of six cents per 100, or $120 per ton. These rates were quoted in 1909.

On high class goods, say fine dry goods, or first class freight, the rate to New York is 27c, steamship side, and to Boston steamship side, 15c.

making a saving of 12c in favor of the port of Boston.

Means a Saving

The development of the port of Boston should, therefore, mean the undoubted saving on all piece dry goods shipped from Lowell to the southwest.

Some people have inquired why the state and not the city should develop the port of Boston. The state has been for forty years committed to the policy of developing the port of Boston, and has since 1879 spent over $3,000,000; the state owns a large and important part of the water front, while the city owns practically nothing; the state owns several thousand acres of this in the harbor, upon which the development of the future will be made; and beside Boston itself, there are a dozen other cities and towns fronting on the harbor; but the chief answer is that the continued industrial supremacy of the whole state is linked up with and almost dependent upon the full development of the port of Boston.

The problem of the development of the port is to bring about conditions that will attract more ships to the port.

In getting at the solution of the problem, the directors of the port of Boston have submitted to the public for their consideration through the governor and legislature, two important matters of policy which I wish to discuss.

It is the ambition of the directors of the port of Boston to make the development of the port self-supporting. The directors are already authorized to expend in the improvement of the harbor $2,000,000 to be raised by the sale of state bonds. The board would like to spend the money in such a way that it will produce enough revenue to pay the interest and even the principal of the bonds without adding upon the taxpayers of the state for a cent.

Boston's Foreign Trade

The foreign trade of Boston is now conducted at terminals owned by the railroads. The railroads give steamship lines the use of their piers free of charge. If the $2,000,000 should be spent in a foolish attempt to provide new terminal facilities in competition with existing facilities, how much revenue could be secured?

But if the $2,000,000 is spent in improving and adding to present facilities, it is quite another matter. This brings us to the root of the whole problem of the intelligent development of the port.

The largest and best equipped piers and docks are necessary. All the railroad connections that can be secured are necessary and new and improved steamship connections both eastwise and foreign are necessary. But in order that these improvements may be made, there are two fundamental conditions to be fulfilled.

First, the water front, meaning its piers and railroad connections used for commercial purposes, must be under single control.

Second, that single control must be public control.

The acquisition of our water front is both necessary and inevitable. The only question is when and how to do it.

If we acquire the most important part of our water front at once we can make up much of the ground we have lost.

What the board has asked is to be put in a position so that it can acquire for the public the most valuable part of the water front, to constitute a public terminal such as exists in other ports, open to all railroads and steamships on equal terms, thus making Boston genuinely an open port free to compete with other great ports for the business of the world.

The board does not ask to have the taxpayers of the state provide this money or any part of it. The board does not ask to be placed in such a position that the taxpayers of the state will furnish all the necessary funds.

As a means of accomplishing the desired results without asking on the taxpayers for any contribution, either now or in the future, the board has recommended that the port directors be constituted a public corporation, a corporation only in the sense that the city of Lowell is a corporation, a method which the successful experience of other large seaports has demonstrated to be the most businesslike means of financing port development.

The board claims no credit for the suggestion; it was the form of organization proposed in the first draft of the bill that created the board.

Such a public corporation, with the power to sell its own bonds, could easily raise the money necessary to buy all the water front desired. It would pay the interest on its bonds each year out of the earnings of the property which it would hold as the agent of the state.

If the state should put its credit behind these bonds to the extent of guaranteeing the payment of the interest, they could be sold on a much better basis—on a 3 1/2 per cent interest basis instead of say 1 1/2 per cent. This is all the board has suggested that the state should do.

The question has been asked, why shouldn't the port directors spend their $2,000,000 before asking for any more? The answer is that if the public owns the water front, the $2,000,000 can be expended so as to pay its cost but under present conditions it would be very hard to do it.

Lowell is admirably situated for industrial growth. Not the least of its advantages has been that it is within 258 miles of one of the greatest ports of the world—New York. Lowell will assure her future by seeing to it that her own port, only 26 miles away, is also developed into one of the greatest ports of the world.

The third speaker on the list was Mr.

Edward F. McSweeney of Boston, who dwelt in a very interesting manner on "The Problem of the Alien." He treated his subject as only an expert would and his remarks were often interrupted with loud applause.

Mr. McSweeney's address was as follows:

Mr. McSweeney's Address.

"It is the well known psychology of democracies that when a thing goes wrong, attention is centered on one or two things of significant importance, with no interest in anything else. If we have a crop failure we blame the party in power, and for an outbreak of anarchy we put the fault on the yellow press, and thus having created a sin-eater we are content to let things drift along until the next time, not caring to go behind the scape-goat to see whether the political party is not the victim of overwhelming conditions or whether the yellow press is only an echo of the voice of the people. In the intervals when the party in power, 'The System' or the yellow press are not in the spot-light, we

SAILOR WHITE WON STRONG PROGRAM

He Knocked Out Jack For Lowell S. & A. Club Meeting Tonight

LEWISTON, Me., March 22.—Sailor White of New York knocked out Jack Serino of Boston in the eighth round last night. The attendance was the largest in the history of boxing in this city. Serino was the favorite.

Sailor was the aggressor during the first few rounds. Early in the opening round he caught Serino with a left to the jaw that sent the Boston man to the mat for the count of nine. Twice in the third round White, by a succession of rights and lefts to the head, floored Jack, each time for the count of nine.

In the fourth round Serino got after the sailor and put him down three times, each for the count of nine, and would have doubtless scored a knockout but for the founding of the post. Both men were groggy in the fifth and sixth rounds and honors were about even.

After the wait required by the Maine law, the men resumed their fighting. Nothing much happened up to the latter part of the second round when the second bout, when White caught Serino with a hard right to the jaw and the Boston heavy weight went down and out.

The main bout was preceded by several good preliminaries of six rounds each between local boys.

MOHA PROVES IMPRESSIVE

NEW YORK, March 22.—Bob Moha of Milwaukee made an auspicious debut in local boxing circles by knocking out good looking and popular Billy Burke of the National S. C. last night. Burke managed to stay the ten rounds by clinching and running away. If he had stood up and mixed it Moha would surely have dropped him.

Moha was a white Joe Walcott in size, reach, build and general conformation. He was a ring for the slant-kicker of other days, except in color. Burke stood head and shoulders over Moha, had the advantage of several inches in reach and three pounds in weight. Burke tipped the beam at 162½ pounds and Moha 155½ pounds.

MITCHELL KNOCKS OUT MAHER

BASEBALL NOTES

Jack Chesbro and Jack Powell, the veterans, worked out with the Red Sox the other morning.

All reports from the south seem to agree that Krug, the youngster, who is being tried at shortstop for the Red Sox, looks awfully good.

Jimmy Sheppard is getting down to weight, and when the season starts he will be lighter than at any time since he joined the club.

Harry Davis rather put one over on his old boss, Connie Mack, when he secured the future services of Kenneth Nash of Brown.

President McAleer and Tim Speaker got together at Hot Springs and the Texas star flung a Boston contract for next season.

Nine says Mungert is as bashful as a young girl at her coming out party, but that he will get over that and put out a fine player.

Lafayette has not been chosen captain of the Cleveland team yet, although there is every reason to expect that Larry will be Davis' choice for the place.

Ball players will get rich in the Cotton State league this year. The salary limit allows the managers to spend an average of exactly five a month for each player.

Moran, Norrison and Wheel now comprise the Brooklyn outfield. They made four of the 16 hits in the game in which the Superbas beat Brooklyn, 5 to 1.

One of the big questions facing baseball over the Red Sox is: Will Buck O'Brien make good? If he does, Jim McAleer may be piloting a pennant contender by July 1.

The latest report from the Giants' camp at Martin is that Fred Shodorfs, the scrappy center fielder, will be shifted over to right and that Arthur Blane, the western home-run king, will be in center and Josh Devore in the other garden.

Manager McElroy of the New York National league baseball club announced the other day that outfielder Harry Devore, brother of Josh Devore, utility player, has been sold to Galveston of the Texas league, and outfielder Jacobson and infielder Gardell to the Mobile club of the Southern league.

The Red Sox pitchers are showing out in fine style. Wood, O'Brien, Givette and Page look good. Ray Collins seems to be in need of a lot of work. But will give up pitching now for a while and nurse his sore elbow, and work more carefully in the future.

Speaker arrived at Hot Springs about five pounds overweight. That's more than considering he has much to lose in the coming season.

Manager Stahl will have one less pitcher to work out at the training grounds at Hot Springs. Casey Hagenman is now satisfied that his pitching arm will be out of commission for some time. He claims that it bothered him last fall while with Boston, but he thought he would be all right with a winter's rest. Such has not been his luck, however, for even the lightest kind of work brings him great pain.

Goodman began the game at third base for the Red Sox Yankees, but found that his throwing arm was in bad shape. This young man starts in bad shape. This young man starts in bad shape. This young man starts in bad shape.

of with being colors and threw like a shot the first day, but since then he has dropped off in play as a result of a lame wrist. This is usually the trouble with the young players in the spring treks.

Work at the South End grounds is going along apace. It was decided to place the old flag pole in deep left center field. When in its old location in center field, it is the general impression that the pole never was hit on by a ball.

Brothers, but Billy Hamilton says that once when he was having a "fly" Young, the ball bounded back and thus allowed him only two bases.

The fence behind the center field bleachers is being made higher by about two feet and the painters already are beginning to decorate the fences with green, and to place "Harvard crimson red" letters about the bleacher fences and the boxes.

That careful regard for details, which is part of the game of success, was shown yesterday by Owner Galvin of the Boston Nationals and Architect Meyers. They decided on the exact shades of paint and the exact location of flagpoles and entrances which the South End grounds will sport this season.

Boston fans are taking kindly to the idea of being able to purchase boxes at the American league grounds for the season, and the list of applicants for the boxes is increasing every day.

Ten men have applied for umpireships in the Greater Boston league, which will have the double-umpire system and will employ eight indicator manipulators. Yesterday at Lynn Paul Lane and Secretary Brewster conferred with the stockholders of the club. The manager of the Lynn team has not been appointed.

Patsy Flaherty, who is at Hot Springs, is overweight, so he writes to Manager John Gausel of Rochester; and he will not join the International league until he is another week.

Harry Schiefel is playing third base for the St. Louis Cardinal Cardinals, and in a recent game got two of the six hits that his team made against Breunhardt's regulars. Smith is playing third base on Rogers' first team.

"Bank" O'Day of the Cincinnati Reds is carrying only five more men at his training camp than he will be able to keep after the season is well under way.

An exchange says: Another greater Salem boy who has attracted the attention of the scouts and will receive a tryout in league baseball is Courtney (Coker) Woodman, the former pitcher of the Danvers High school team. Woodman is a little light for the New England league but the Lowell management will look the Danvers boy over during their spring practice which begins at an early date. Woodman was also a football player on the Danvers team last year.

in 1910, filling the position of half-back in the game with Salem at Bertram field in the autumn of 1910. He was severely injured while playing a fine game but wholly recovered from his injuries and ought to make a strong fight for a place on some fast local team if he is not retained by Lowell.

William Harrington, the young pitcher of the Lynn New England league team, who in his first year with that club made such a fine showing, has been taken south by the Chicago National league and will receive a tryout with the former champions. The Cubs are now in training at New Orleans. Harrington is only 15 years of age and is a former Wakefield high school boy. He is a left hander and last year won two-thirds of the games in which he worked for the Lynn team.

Frank Harrington, an older brother, is now the captain of the Boston college team where he pitched great baseball last year, while an older brother, Joseph, is now the property of the Detroit team. Young Harrington was drafted at the close of last season by the Louisville club of the American association but the Chicago scouts saw a good thing and bought his release from Louisville. Frank Harrington, the Boston college leader, will, at the close of his career at Boston, join the Pittsburgh team.—Exchange.

"Stuffy" Melnick seems to be the hard-luck boy of the Philadelphia Athletics. After taking care of his wrist that was hurt last year, he turned his ankle in a game the other day, which will keep him out of the game for a while. If "Stuffy" flunk would leave him he would do good this year on first. Although "Stuffy" hails from Massachusetts this does not signify that the Boston fans have any love for him after the home-run he pulled off here last summer.

Mr. Sporting Editor: Trusting you will allow me a little space in your paper I would like to reply to an article which appeared in your paper on Thursday night, concerning the series between the C. A RECENT PICTURE OF PRESIDENT GOMEZ OF CUBA

HAVANA, Cuba, March 22.—President Jose Miguel Gomez is having troublous times in the closing days of his administration. There is uncertainty as to what course he will follow in the coming contest for the presidency. He was elected by the liberals after an agreement that after one term he was to aid Arturo Zayas, the vice president, to become president. Friends of Zayas say that Gomez has not carried out this agreement; that he has tried to arrange for his own re-election, and when this was found to be impracticable, he has found another candidate. He has also had trouble with the Veterans' association that demanded the discharge of all Spaniards from government positions, and the congress has also defied the president's efforts to adjourn that body.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 22.—Dooin, Letters passed between the two, and in a short time the men were supposed to be at "daggers' points." Charley was playing to full houses on the road on account of the publicity extended to twelve weeks instead of six. Dooin said he would resign as pilot unless he was placed in full charge of the team. Fogel said he was seriously thinking about trading his star catcher and manager. The official story came to an end. Dooin traded that did not suit the state of dropped, Fogel a line informing him that a mistake had been made somewhere and that they had misunderstood each other. The as was heated, and the men became fast friends again. The misunderstanding was blamed on the press agent, and the poor public was made the goat. Most every day at the training camp here one could see Fogel sitting down while he thought of the team. After watching the men work and they predict that the Phillies will be the ones in the National league this season and carry off the pennant. In the membership are seven citizens of Indiana, one each from Texas, Oklahoma and Alabama. These western men joined recently having heard of the club from friends, who had been to this part of the country on business. Several of them were introduced at the club's banquet during the latter part of February, when more than 250 healthy members made merry.

The 64 members of the club average in weight 250 pounds each. One member of the club weighs 565 pounds and is at all times glad to announce that he is "holding his own."

On the evening of April 12 the Fat Man's club will have a ladies' night, entertainment and banquet at Kingsley hall, in the Ford building, Boston and at the April monthly meeting it is thought that something will be done in the way of preliminary arrangements for the summer outing of the club. Just how this annual event will be observed is not yet known. It may be a down the short trip on a large or a run into the country on Corporation trucks.

Usually, except in July, August and September, the club meets on the second Monday of each month, and when new members are initiated there is no lack of interest. Until the first which recently damaged the Revere house, Boston, that old-time hostel was the regular meeting place. There is some talk just now about the club making arrangements for quarters of its own, and if at some meeting it is decided to secure permanent club quarters it will be quickly done.

Never did a club rise to numerous and select membership quicker than the Fat Man's club. There are a few on the list of members who would have to carry ballast to make the scales mark 200, but there is an unwritten law in the club's code that certain good fellows are exempt and, though lightweights, may become members.

There has been some talk of having a clubhouse, but it is doubtful if the club will undertake anything quite so important. Most of the members like the present scheme of meeting at some hotel in winter, and perhaps at a shore resort in summer for the monthly gatherings.

Ex-Senator Joseph Hibbard of this city is a prominent member of the Fat Man's club.

NEW CRUSADE

IN NEW YORK AGAINST THE LONG HAT PIN

NEW YORK, March 22.—A new crusade against the long hatpin is to be launched here, this date by the city's department of health. As a beginner, the plan is to post printed placards in street cars, elevated and subway lines warning women who wear long and dangerous "pins" of the danger they are to others.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

FRENCH AERO CLUB

HAVE DRAWN UP SET OF "RULES OF THE AIR"

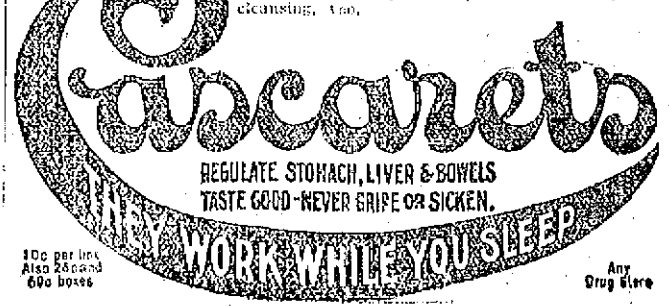

NEW YORK, March 22.—Excerpts from a set of "rules of the air," recently drawn up by the Aero Club of France have just reached this city. The rules include these: Two aircraft meeting must always steer to the right and pass 110 yards apart. One aircraft overtaking another is responsible for keeping clear. It must not approach within 110 yards to the right or 110 yards to the left of the overtaken craft and must not pass directly under the other craft.

FOR SICK, SOUR, BILIOUS STOMACH, INDIGESTION AND GAS TAKE CASCARETS

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, tension, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means indigestion; a disordered stomach which cannot be regulated until you have removed the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets, they cure indigestion, because they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermented food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended forever. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle, cleansing, too.

IMMIGRATION MAY BE RESTRICTED

As a result of the Lawrence strike members of congress have come to a realization of the fact that it is not now, that some of the highly protected industries of this country draw upon the cheapest labor they can get from Europe. That was found to be the case in Lawrence and it has been the case in many other cities for some years past. The immigrants from southern Europe pour in here and secure employment. In many cases they do not intend to remain here and where this is the case they live poorly and hoard their money to send it home for sale keeping. Under such circumstances it is not surprising that they do not readily fall into the ways of this country and that in case of trouble they are easily swayed by anarchists and others who claim to sympathize with them. There is a sentiment abroad at the present time and it is shared by congressmen, in favor of restricting immigration of this nature by applying an literacy test that would undoubtedly bar a very considerable number of those who are least desirable in the incoming tide of immigration.

Another thing demonstrated by the Lawrence strike and one that was generally known in every textile city in the land is that while the manufacturers made a special plea for high protection in order to be able to pay good wages, the mill men of Lawrence forgot about their wage earners and peckered the bulk of the profits.

HEARST AND WILSON

Hearst is at his political antics again. He has ruled Governor Woodrow Wilson out of the democratic party. Let us see. Since when did Hearst come into possession of the democratic party that it is his to say who shall belong and who shall not. Hearst is one of the worst political mountebanks in the country. In 1905 he ran against the democratic candidate for mayor of New York and in 1906 he organized the independence league, with the support of which he captured the democratic nomination for governor. In 1907 the Hearst league united with the republicans against the democratic party in New York city; in 1908 he put the independence league in the field with a national ticket and in 1910 he ran for lieutenant governor on the third party ticket. Yet after all these acts of treachery this man, still claiming to be a democrat, undertakes to pass upon the genuineness of Governor Wilson's democracy. Hearst has not yet indicated just what he intends to do in this campaign beyond the fact that he can always be relied upon to work mischief of some kind. Hearst is the champion booby of the country.

WILSON AS AN ORATOR

As an orator Governor Woodrow Wilson seems to eclipse even William Jennings Bryan but while oratory alone may capture a nomination it will not and cannot capture an election. In a speech at Pittsburgh, Pa., a year before being nominated for governor of New Jersey, Governor Wilson cast off this piece of eloquence:

"The great voice of America does not come from seats of learning. It comes in a murmur from the hills and woods and the farms and factories and the mills, rolling on and gaining volume until it comes from the homes of common men. Do these murmurs echo in the corridors of universities? I have not heard them.

"The universities would make men forget their common origins; forget their universal sympathies and join a class—and no class can serve America.

"Nations are removed from the ranks of unknown men. National life is renewed from the bottom and not from the top.

"The common man has a divine right of a chance to prize."

WOMEN AS TRUANT OFFICERS

It is quite likely that the bill before the legislature of this state providing that school committees may appoint women as truant officers will become law. Women can control some children by moral suasion when men would have to resort to stern methods. The woman truant officer will be able to give more attention to girls than they have formerly received. We have few girl truants but many girl delinquents and to these the woman truant officer might direct her attention with profit.

The Amherst expedition to Patagonia has unearthed a fossil that is believed to have been the progenitor of the elephant. The expedition, led by Professor Leardi, proceeded on the assumption that animals ancestral to those of North America and Europe at one time inhabited Patagonia. The skull and neck of this mammoth animal have been found while four complete skeletons have also been discovered and one deposit gave up nearly 300 jaws and 24 complete skulls. The geologist of the party thinks some of the fossils are 2,000,000 years old.

In the town of Barre in which labor leaders have settled a mill strike, the conditions are very much different from those of Lawrence. Most of the operatives live in the corporation houses as the operatives used to do in Lowell and Lawrence. The corporation agreement has gone and with it went the corporation boarding-house. The operatives are more independent when not living in the houses owned by the corporations.

The holding of two of the United Shoe Machinery men in $10,000 each on the charge of maintaining a monopoly in interstate commerce may appear formidable but in view of the fact that the United States supreme court has sustained an unrestricted monopoly under the company's patents, the indictment is not likely to be followed by conviction.

The circulation of a leaflet instructing mothers in the care of children would do much good. Not all mothers read it, but a circular containing the same would be of great help to the mothers of children might enlighten many of those who are not well informed on the subject.

SEEN AND HEARD

The Higdon Carpet company, I was told the other day is doing a business that most of its machinery is being repaired. The Lowell Hosiery is doing a ready market for its goods and I am told that they can readily sell all that the plant is capable of producing.

Thomas Martin who died in Chelsea on the 15th day of the present month, operated two mills in this city several years ago.

Mr. Martin founded the Provident Co-operative bank in Chelsea, and was president until his death. For seven years he was president of the First National bank of Chelsea, and a trustee of the Chelsea Savings bank. He was a prominent Mason and very active in church work. He is survived by his wife and two married daughters, the latter living in London, Eng.

The fact that corporal punishment is discouraged in the public schools of Chicago is what led today's teacher to address this note to the boy's mother:

"Dear Madam—I regret very much to have to tell you that your son, Robert, bites away his time, is dishonest, quarrelsome and disobeys the pupils who are trying to study their lessons. He needs a good whipping and I strongly recommend that you give him one. Yours truly, Miss Blank."

To this Bobby's mother responded as follows: "Dear Miss Blank—Kick him your self. I don't mind at him. Yours truly, Mrs. Dash."

In court-martial trials in the United States army the attorneys are selected from among the officers at the post, regardless of their lack of legal training or their inability to handle a case.

On young officer, a surgeon, whose insurance was filed so far as the law was concerned, found himself appointed "counsel for the defense" at the new post and when he entered the court his only legal knowledge was that he had a right to "object" to the tactics of the other side. Accordingly, when one of his witnesses began to be cross-questioned, he sprang to his feet and shouted in a voice of thunder:

"I object!"

"On what grounds?" echoed the prosecuting attorney.

"On what grounds?" echoed the surgeon.

"On mighty good grounds. Why, if my witness tells the truth when he answers that question, it will ruin the case!"

UNDRESSING THE BABY

Talk about fun! You should just see us when

I am putting our baby to bed.

We laugh and we shout and we go to it then

Till I get a pain in my head.

She climbs on my back for a ride on the stairs

And I shout: "Get out of the way!"

And always we upset a couple of chairs

As a sort of farewell to the day.

Then we get to her room and we bounce on the bed

And I tickle her ribs and her toes.

Till my cheeks and her cheeks get horribly red

And my spectacles fall off my nose.

Then I have to try to unbutton her shoes.

While she dances a jig on the spring.

That's a trick that is certain the babe to amuse.

It is such an impossible thing.

Then she'll slip from the room and she'll race down the hall.

"Come catch me now, daddy," she'll cry.

And just as I reach out to grasp her, I fall.

And pretend that I'm going to die.

We gasp and we sigh between laughs for a rest.

Then zipl! we go at it again.

Till mother says: "Isn't that baby undressed?"

And off come her stockings right then.

It takes me an hour sometimes to undress

That youngster of mine, for the fun

And if another glad downstairs, I'm free to confess

Even then I might not get it done.

But just about when I am all out of breath

On the stairway we hear her soft tread.

And she says: "You are romping that baby to death."

Go down now, I'll put her to bed."

CANADA IS LOSING

By Commercial Dealings With France

OTTAWA, Ont., March 22.—That Canada's commercial treaty with France is not entirely satisfactory to this country is indicated in a statement given to the house of commons by George E. Foster, minister of trade and commerce. The treaty has been in force three years and last year Canada bought from France $9,000,000 more than it sold to that country. The statement was provoked by a resolution urging steps to increase the trade and it was shown that ever since the treaty was signed France has been raising the minimum tariff against Canada. This affects the volume of exports. Improved steamship service is now proposed as one means of stimulating trade.

THE LAMSON CO.

Has Made Big Addition to Plant in Walker Street

The new addition to the Lamson Consolidated Store Service company plant in Walker street is about completed. The exterior is finished and men are now engaged putting the finishing touches to the interior of the structure. The erection of the new building is the result of a continued increase in business. When finished the company will be able to more than supply the great number of orders, and will also have ample room to make trials and experiments. It is a very beautiful structure and adds greatly to the surroundings of the spacious plant.

The work on the building was started on November first and though the weather was severe, operations continued until the present time. The foundation of the structure is laid mostly on a ledge and is very substantial. The structure is of four stories, and the first will be known as the basement. The entire building is made of reinforced concrete. Steel beams are installed and these afford many windows.

The dimensions of the building are 150x50 feet and the floor area is 21,000 square feet. It is a fireproof construction, even to the doors. There is a very large elevator, 6x12, which was made by the Otis company of Boston. The floors are of cement with a wood covering as it would be impossible to install machinery on the concrete floors. The building will be known as No. 2.

The planning of the mill is in the hands of the H. E. Barker company of Lowell and calls for absolute hygiene and sanitary work.

The heating and other piping will be done by the Carroll brothers of this city. All the accessories are of modern style and everything in connection with the building is of the latest design.

The new structure will be used for the general work of the company. All the departments that are now inadequate to turn out their respective lines of work will have space in this building. For the present the basement will be utilized as a storage room for patterns and the assembly of all large work. The first floor proper will be a pattern and carpenter room combined. On the second floor the heavy machinery work will be done. The top floor will be used for the present for the storage of material and machinery from some of the other departments.

The Broadway side of the building while of substantial construction is only temporary. This was done so additions might easily be made. In the event of more room being necessary the end will be torn out and the extension made. While now some machinery has been installed, taken from the old mill, most of the machinery to be used in the addition will be new. The installation of the machinery will continue from now on and Supt. Stevens expects that work in the addition will be started the first of April.

The designing and engineering of the new mill was done by the Lockwood (Green) company of Boston. This company makes a specialty of the erection of industrial buildings.

The resident engineer of the company on the Lamson building is T. Herbert Piles of Boston. Mr. Piles has had considerable experience in this work.

Employed 51 Men
The construction of the building is the work of the Abernethy Construction company, with offices in Boston. The labor company's men came here and broke ground on Nov. 1. The construction was superintended by J. D. Henderson and he employed about 50 men. The men from the time the foundation was started worked continuously until the work was finished. All during the severe winter, work was done, and the men experienced some very disagreeable weather. During the extreme cold weather a system of heating was used and canvas coverings were also pressed into service. To complete the few minor details of the building some of the men will remain at the building for about a week.

Though practically completed the mill has not been turned over to the Lamson company yet. Engineer Piles is still on the job and will remain until everything is in tip top shape.

The building is certainly a model structure and will greatly increase the work of the progressive establishment.

Supt. Stevens
In conversation with a representative of The Sun, Supt. D. J. Stevens said that work in all the departments of the company is rushing. He says that the present quarters are inadequate and the new building was the only solution to the problem. One of the principal reasons for the remarkable expansion in the business of the company is due to the great amount of work that the company is doing for the government. The large battleship hoists which are for the automatic discharge of ammunition, are still being made and are in great demand. This work is very delicate and important and more room is needed in the department where these are made.

Experimenting on Hoist
At the present time an experiment is being made on a hoist of enormous size and if perfected, and the officers of the company are confident that it will be, it will be a greater success than the one now being turned out by the company. Among the ships using the hoist is the battleship New Jersey and the hoists are giving good satisfaction. The New Jersey is one of the fastest ships in the navy and was the first to adopt the hoist. At the time that the government selected the hoist, a test was held in this city. It was then forwarded to Washington, where a most severe test and inspection was held and the local invention stood the test. Since then the New Jersey has used it with great success.

The manufacturing of the hoists is most important and requires skilled and competent workmen and Supt. Stevens says that the company has them. While this cannot be termed an innovation, says Supt. Stevens, it with other recent machinery has increased the business of the company to large proportions. "While now we are working on normal time," continued the superintendent, "about all the winter we were obliged to work overtime to supply all our orders."

"With the new addition, however, we expect to be able to turn out all our orders without running extra time. In the event, though, of not having room enough the temporary end to the building will be torn out and an extension made." He further said that when the model hoist that the men are working on at the present time is completed a test will be held in the yard of the company in Walker street. If this test is satisfactory the model will be sent to the government officials in Washington.

TRAINS WERE LATE

Freight Delayed by the Storm

Many of the freight trains arriving in this city were very late yesterday. The cause of the delay is laid to the storm. In several of the cities outside of Lowell, especially in the northern section, the storm was of very large proportions and caused considerable trouble to the heavy trains. Today, however, all are running on good time.

DEFENDANT'S STORY

Dr. Ferguson Testifies in the Bolduc Case

BOSTON, March 22.—Dr. John D. Ferguson of Manchester, N. H., on trial with Mrs. Annie Reed of Boston and Miss Mary O'Neill of Manchester for being concerned in the death of Miss Marie Bolduc, took the witness stand today in his own behalf. He recounted in detail his professional relations with the girl and denied that he had ever treated her except to advise a poultice for an abscess. He admitted that he and Miss O'Neill went to Boston with Miss Bolduc and that all three visited the house of Mrs. Reed, who was about to leave for New Hampshire. He declared that he started home with the understanding that the Bolduc girl was going to the house of Mrs. Shattuck in Roxbury. His testimony agreed with that given by Mrs. Reed and Miss O'Neill in nearly all details. When he reached the Shattuck house after being summoned from Manchester to identify the body of a girl he said that he found that an attempt had been made to cut it up. It was his belief that when he reached the house on Dec. 20th the girl had been dead several days.

Small Army Kept Busy Digging Graves

MCCURTAIN, Okla., March 22.—Twenty-nine corpses found late last night were removed today from the mine of the San Bois Coal Co. and efforts were renewed to locate seven other miners known to have been in the workings when a gas explosion culminated 114 men Wednesday forenoon. When the fate of these seven is ascertained the entire 116 will have been accounted for. Twenty-five were taken out alive and the bodies of 51 have been recovered.

A small army of men this morning began the work of digging graves for the blast victims. Among those at work in the cemetery with pick and shovel are men from all walks of life.

SEARCH FOR BANDITS

Sheriffs and Posse Unable to Locate the Allen Outlaws

HILLSVILLE, Va., March 22.—Out days ago that he had made a sortie in the hills and mountains along the Virginia-North Carolina border today are all of the sheriffs, detectives and posse men enlisted for the pursuit of the Allen outlaws, apparently determined to stay in the field this time until they have run down something besides false clues. Just where the hunters are or what they are doing no one here knows. This community avowed to day in a state of excited expectancy over Governor Mann's announcement that steps were being taken which he believed would result in the capture of the Allens shortly. No inkling of the nature of the proposed campaign has been given out, however. Fear that information as to the plans and movements of the searchers will leak to the fugitives has even resulted in an attempt to censor press dispatches.

According to stories reaching here, Diana Allen and his four nephews now have been in this vicinity since they shot up the Carroll court a week ago yesterday but Diana, weakened by the swarms, actually has spent two nights at his own home. It is said that the mountaineers have constantly watched their pursuers through field glasses and have used successfully a rifle shot code system.

Floyd Allen, the old man whose sentence to a year in jail for interference with an officer precipitated the killing of judge, prosecutor, sheriff, a juror and a young girl has given out an interview from the Roanoke jail carefully censored by his attorney. No reference to the tragedy itself was made by the prisoner. He gave a sketch of his life and an account of the events leading up to his indictment for interfering with an officer and denied emphatically that he had ever made "moonshine" whiskey.

His son, Victor, also a prisoner, said that he took no part in the earthenware shooting, that he went to Hillsville unarmed to make a witness for his father and after the tragedy made no effort to get away because he was innocent.

It is undoubtedly true that despite the best efforts on the part of the immigration officers, multi "immigrants" are sometimes landed, and not only so, but sedulously interested in the "immigration" of others, or the "recruitment" of their own, labor force. The alien races coming in today are no way different in their inherent love of liberty than were the races of fifty years ago. The struggles of the Irish, the Greeks and Italians for equal rights and as possessors of liberty and civilization abhorrate the history of Europe since the Christian era, nothing in nature is ever lost and the elements that made these races great in the past, still endure in their descendants, who are only asking for that liberty of opportunity under our law which a good example set by the native stock in this country has always been in. MANY FOREIGNERS

Arrived in This City Yesterday and Today

There is a great increase in the number of foreigners coming to this country at the present time. Most of the aliens are landing in New York, from where they take trains to different sections of the country. Many are coming this way. Yesterday the train that connects with the New York boat at Fall River brought sixty from the old world to this city. These arrived in the morning and while a few remained in the city the rest of them took trains to other places.

The majority of those who arrived in this city yesterday were Russian Poles. Those who left went to Lawrence, Haverhill, Manchester, N. H. and Berlin, N. H. They went on the morning train, leaving here for Lawrence and Haverhill on the 9.39 train; for Manchester on the 9.39 train, and those going to Berlin took the 10.35 train. Today another colony of aliens arrived here. The number was 25. These were mostly Russian Poles and they, too, remained here only to take trains for other places. Of the party that came here today four took the 11.59 train for Falmouth. In this party there were three women and one man. The others went to Lawrence, Haverhill and Manchester.

The costumes of the visitors attracted considerable attention. The women in both parties, and they seemed to be in the majority, wore large white shawls over their heads. They carried large bundles and bags. One of the men who came yesterday had a straw hat on and he attracted much attention at the depot.

LABORE BEATS WALSH

NEWBURYPORT, March 22.—Karl Labore of Manchester, N. H., won a decision over Young Jimmie Walsh of Lowell last night before the Newburyport A. C., the seconds for the latter throwing up the sponge in the sixth round. Walsh was able when he entered the ring, but fought rancily. In the sixth though his condition became serious and though he wanted to continue his seconds had the bout stopped. Young Murray got a decision over Ah Chung, the Salem Chittaman, and Billy Edwards of Lawrence won over Young Labore of Lynn. Tim Coffey of this city knocked out Young Labore of Marblehead in the second round.

A WAGE INCREASE

Of 10 Per Cent. Granted to the Fall River Operatives

FALL RIVER, March 22.—An advance of ten per cent. in wages March 25 was offered to the operatives' unions by the Fall River Cotton Manufacturers' association this afternoon, and as assurances had been given that the increase will be accepted there will be no general strike next Monday.

The advance of ten per cent. is the same as that granted by M. C. D. Borden, owner of the seven mills of the Fall River Iron Works Co., on Wednesday. About 20,000 operatives in more than 100 print cloth mills controlled by 25 manufacturers will participate in the higher wage schedule in this city and if the yarn, thread and quilt will follow the action of the print cloth mill owners about 35,000 persons in Fall River will benefit. The substitution of 10 per cent. advance for the 6 per cent. increase originally offered is expected to be paid by numerous establishments outside of Fall River as frequent inquiries have been made here as to the probable scale which would be decided on. The textile councils of the various unions have been summoned to meet tonight and following their acceptance of the ten per cent. increase the manufacturers will post notices in all the mills probably tomorrow.

News of the manufacturers' offer did not become generally known among the operatives until they had returned to work after the noon hour, but the intelligence circulated rapidly among business men and there was general rejoicing that a great industrial struggle had been averted. A conference between both sides was held during the middle of the day between the executive committee of the Manufacturers' association headed by President Hills and the executive committee of the textile council, of which James Tansey is president.

At the conclusion of the conference Secretary Thomas Taylor of the Textile council made public the following statement: "A conference was held today between the executive committee of the Manufacturers' Association and the executive committee of the textile council to discuss the wage situation. The manufacturers' committee reported their inability to comply with the request of the textile council for an advance in wages of 15 per cent. but after some deliberation made an offer to advance wages ten per cent. This proposition will be brought before the textile council at 7.15 o'clock tonight and considered at the general meetings at eight o'clock."

A CONFERENCE BETWEEN MILL MEN AND TEXTILE COUNCIL

FALL RIVER, March 22.—That there would be quiet conditions in the cotton mills of Fall River was strongly indicated this forenoon and the sentiment was that there would be no general strike next Monday morning to enforce a wage advance of 10 per cent. The Manufacturers' association has agreed to have its president confer with the textile council's executive and endeavor to reach a better understanding. The conference was arranged for 11 a. m. The union officials while somewhat anxious, were confident that the association have been issued for meetings of all the textile unions of the city tonight to be followed by a session of the Fall River textile council. While the union operatives recently requested an increase in wages of 15 per cent. and were refused after their rejection of the five per cent. raise there is reason to believe that they will favorably consider an offer to raise their pay 10 per cent. No element in the city, whether among the mill owners, operatives or business men is prepared to stand a protracted strike and all interests were hopeful that an industrial struggle would be averted. Fall River is almost wholly dependent upon a single industry, the manufacture of print cloth, and during the past three years dull markets for goods, the high cost of cotton and consequent drastic curtailment have cost the city heavily. For this reason no element is prepared to force a general stoppage of machinery especially when the industry is showing pronounced signs of revival.

A ten per cent. advance will increase the wage basis from 19.5 to 21.5 cents per cut for weaving regulars. For the operatives of the Iron Works company with a full complement of 5,000 operatives working, it will mean $2,500 additional wages a week. For all the mills, figuring on a full force of about 35,000 operatives employed, it would mean over $27,000 additional a week in wages. There is at present a shortage of operatives.

Manufacturers outside all over New England have been following the wage movement here very closely, as has been evident from their frequent inquiries. There is little question among the mill managers and owners here but that a 10 per cent. advance in wages will be made by cotton manufacturers throughout the rest of New England if Fall River manufacturers as a whole grant the advance.

The mills represented in the Fall River Manufacturers' association employ nearly 25,000 persons. The Fall River Iron Works have 5,000 more in thread, yarn, quilt and gluing mills there are nearly 5,000 additional operatives when help and orders are plentiful. Another development of interest today was the announcement that Mr. Borden had advanced the price of the products of the American Printing Co.'s works here, which he owns, to 45 cents a yard. The advance will become effective next Tuesday and is expected to influence the prices of print cloth in the mills here. The advance was in a measure foreshadowed by Mr. Borden's raise of ten per cent. in wages.

citizens with courage and hope. By his efforts a company which later was named Richardson Light Infantry in his honor, was promptly raised and equipped in Lowell, and it had the honor of being the first company of three year men formed in Massachusetts. It was organized on the evening of April 19, 1861.

Mr. Richardson was placed in very many positions of trust and honor. In 1862 and '63 he served in the common council and the following year he was elected to the board of aldermen. In 1867, and '68 he served the city faithfully as mayor and during the last year of his term he was a delegate to the republican convention at Chicago, which nominated General Grant for his first election.

In 1871 and '72 he served in the Massachusetts senate and at the end of his term he retired from public life and devoted his time to his law business. He was a member of the school board, a trustee of the city library, president of the Middlesex Mechanics' association, city solicitor, director of Traders and Mechanics Insurance Co.,

Deceased is survived by a bereaved wife, Caroline A., a daughter, Mrs. Marietta R. Jefferson, three grand-children, Richardson E. Jefferson, Gen. H. Jefferson and Meta Jefferson.

PIG WAS STOLEN

Woman Complained to Officer Petrie

A tale of woe was related to Patrolman David Petrie at Merrimack square this morning, when a woman from Draut informed the officer of the disappearance of one of her pigs, and probably the best one of the lot. The pig it seems was stolen, or strayed away from its pen and its whereabouts is not known, so the owner thought it advisable to notify the police instead of the town constables.

Officer Petrie was standing at the square this forenoon, when a middle aged woman approached him and related the following tale in broken English: "Mr. Policeman, my pig she got swipe from me the night before yesterday and I can't find him no more. She was a good pig and it's too bad to lose one. Just like her, I don't know whether she was scared and run away, but I don't see her no more and I don't find him on the house. The pig he weigh most 200 pounds and it cost money to fat it that way and now I want you to find the robber and put him on the jail, for my husband she says he was stole."

The officer looked at the woman for a moment and finally asked her where she lived, and when he was informed she was a resident of Draut, he told her to report the matter to the town officers.

The woman said she would, and then she went on telling how the pig was kept and fed, and said the animal was the largest one she owned and she could not make out how it got away from the pen without her noticing it, for she said: "If my pig was steal from me I hear it holler, but sure as I live I don't hear one noise. My husband he think the pig was stole at night and he is very mad about it."

She then departed saying she would report the case to town officers, and after thanking the patrolman for his information, she boarded the Lakeview car.

Having pursued his preparatory course of study at Phillips academy, Exeter, Mr. Richardson entered Harvard college in 1846, at the age of 16 years. Upon his graduation from college he entered the Dane Law school in Cambridge, from which at the age of 23 he graduated with honors, having received first prize for an essay. He practiced in Boston for two years and in 1858 he entered as partner in the law office of his brother, Daniel S. Richardson.

Though devoted to the practice of his profession, Mr. Richardson never forgot he was a citizen of Lowell. He was always alive to all that pertained to the welfare and honor of the city. Especially when the war of the Rebellion made its first demand upon the self-sacrifice and patriotism of the people, he stood forth as the trusted and accepted leader, and inspired his fellow

Municipal Council Took Ballot for Registrar of Voters

The municipal council met this afternoon and disposed of a big raft of routine business.

Mayor O'Donnell called to order at 2.10 and read a petition of the Lowell Electric Light corporation for permission to attach wires to poles of the Commercial Union Telegraph company in Pine street, corner of Sanders avenue. The petition was referred to Commissioners Brown and Cummings.

The council voted a hearing for Tuesday afternoon, April 2, on the petition of the Lowell Electric Light corporation for pole locations in Dover street.

The mayor read a petition from Charles E. Bradley for a sewer in Central street, to drain the new Bradley building, the sewer to cross Central street and connect with the manhole in Hurd street. Commissioner Brown said it would cost somewhere in the vicinity of $1,400 to connect the sewer and more than that amount it feels should be encountered.

A communication having to do with the acceptance of Hazel street was referred to the commissioner on streets and highways.

Claims for Damages. Another communication had to do with damage by accident to the property of Joseph Silva. It was alleged in the petition that a sleigh was smashed and a horse so injured that he died a short time afterward. The accident was due to the alleged careless driving of a truck belonging to the fire department. The communication was referred to the committee on claims.

Notice of personal injury to George W. Clark, through his attorney, John W. McEvoy, was received, read and referred to the committee on claims.

Notice of personal injury to Fred G. Humphries was referred to the commissioner on public safety.

Another Athletic Club.

The mayor read a communication from the secretary of state having to do with an application for certificate of incorporation by George E. Coyne et al. to conduct an athletic club, to be known as the Pawtucketville Athletic Club. Other names on the petition included the following: Geo. F. Coyne, Frank C. Carroll, Robt. M. Burns, Bert J. Vining, Henry P. Tighe, Joseph Perkins, Daniel Callahan, John J. Hickson, Richard J. Comerford, Walter J. Cunningham, William A. Gravelle, Albert McDonald, Frank J. Smith, George J. Landry, Leo LaVigne, Harry Kelly, Albert Kinnon, Zil Blissette, Jr., William J. Silcox, Frederick J. Little, David A. Hanlon, William Murray, Neil Murphy, William Gorman, William J. Gaynor, Roscoe F. Ellis, Charles McDonald, John J. Jennings, Arthur C. Gravelle, Charles W. Lyness, Edward Deane and Alonzo Matheson.

Will Pay Police Bill.

A communication from Adj. Gen. Gardner W. Pearson relative to the cost of policing his house during the Lawrence strike, was read by the mayor. The communication was as follows:

Boston, March 13, 1912. Honorable James H. O'Donnell, Mayor of Lowell, Mass. Dear Sir: In regard to the payment of police officers for special duty at my residence during the Lawrence strike, you can bring the matter before the municipal council, if you see fit.

The point of the matter is that, during the recent troubles in Lawrence, (a great extent on account of the incapacity of the city officials, particularly the police, to handle the situation) the state was called upon to furnish protection to citizens and property in that city. This has cost, or will cost the commonwealth somewhere between $250,000 and $200,000.

The expense indicated, I have no doubt, is a proper charge as an incident to the Lawrence matter, but I have sufficient pride in the management of my native city to believe that its representatives would prefer that Lowell should take care of this matter itself and not throw the burden on the state.

So far as that goes, I am perfectly ready to personally pay the charge. Very truly yours, Gardner W. Pearson, The Adjutant General, Chief of Staff.

The council voted to pay the $64. The city engineer was sent for to answer questions relative to the sewer applied for by Charles E. Bradley. Engineer Bradley said it would cost about $1,200, $300 more than Adj. Gen. Pearson's estimate. Mr. Bradley was present and spoke for the petition. "We don't consider it would be right," he said, "to enter the sewer as it now exists. There has never been any sewer assessment on this property and I think it is fair for me to assume that any sewer built there was not intended to accommodate the Hamilton wall property, so-called. If it was so intended the property would have been assessed."

There is considerable of our property that has no sewer in front of it and we feel that it is but fair for the city to give us the same sewer accommodations as are afforded other property owners. We are not asking for any special privilege. By our development and improvement of the property the return to the city in the line of taxes will be $300 or more over what is being paid at the present time. All we ask is fair play and a square deal."

Alderman Barrett moved that the commissioner of streets and highways be authorized to construct a sewer as notified for, the petitioners to pay the expense of the work from the cost of the street to the property in question.

Mayor O'Donnell said it would be necessary to give abutters seven days' notice. The Bradleys, he said, had waived their rights so far as such notice was concerned, but there are other abutters and he thought it would be well to have a written report from the city engineer as to the detailed cost and best method of constructing the sewer. The mayor put his suggestion in the form of a motion.

Mr. Brown said he hoped the amendment would not prevail. I have full charge of streets and sewers and the responsibility of the work will be upon my shoulders. It is up to me to say who shall supervise the work and as regards a detailed statement it would be impossible to prepare it at this time. If the council will vote this work today it will be begun next week.

Mayor O'Donnell said he believed there were legal requirements that should be obeyed. "We may all feel that there are no other abutters," he said, "but we do not know, and I do not think that we are going about this in a legal way."

Alderman Barrett made a new motion to the effect that the city engineer prepare for the council a statement as to the cost of the sewer from the center of the street to the manhole in Hurd street and from the center of the street to the Bradley property; that he ascertain if there are other abutters and to get a signed statement from the petitioners in which they shall agree to pay their proportionate part and that the report be given through the commissioner of streets.

It was so voted, the mayor voting against.

He said he was opposed on the ground that the commissioner of streets is not a civil engineer. Alderman Brown rose on a question of privilege.

The Mayor Sustained. The mayor ruled him out of order. Mr. Brown appealed from the decision of the chair. His appeal was put and defeated.

The mayor then moved that the council proceed to the election of a superintendent of cemeteries. Alderman Cummings asked for a delay until next Tuesday and it was granted.

The board then took one ballot for registrar of voters with the following result: Barrett and Brown for Fred Harrison, Cummings for Charles E. Anderson, Donnelly for Patrick J. Cusaty and the mayor for Horton H. Hilton. Adjourned at 3.30 to 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Adjourned at 3.30 to 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

A HEROIC RESCUE

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 22.—John Hardy lies at his home in the Laurel Ridge mountains near here with both arms dislocated and his face and body badly lacerated, the result of a heroic rescue of his father and an aged neighbor from death in a swollen mountain torrent.

The Hardy family was awakened by cries of help early this morning. William McDowell, aged 55, was found in the doorway of his hut praying for help while the hut was floating down Devil's creek toward a water fall 300 feet deep. Charles Hardy, father of John, raced with the hut until somewhat ahead of it, then plunged into the creek and reached McDowell.

He started to return to shore with the aged mountaineer and was thrown a rope by his son John who had fastened it about his waist. The two men held on but their combined weights dragged John along the shore until he grasped the trunk of a tree and held on, calling for help. As neighbors arrived John fainted and was carried to his home by the men he had rescued. He recovered sufficiently to inquire if his father was safe and again lapsed into unconsciousness. A few moments after Hardy, senior, left the house with McDowell. It crashed over the waterfall.

BOARD OF INQUIRY

To Consider Charges of Inefficiency Against Col. Lombard

BOSTON, March 22.—A board of inquiry today began a private hearing to consider the charges of inefficiency and mismanagement that have been brought against Col. Walter E. Lombard of the Coast Artillery Corps. The hearing which was held at the state house was attended by many prominent military officials. The board will decide whether Colonel Lombard will be tried by court-martial and will make a report to Governor Fox.

Twenty-seven individual charges have been brought against the colonel, who was recently relieved of his command by Gov. Fox pending the outcome of the inquiry. He is charged with being intoxicated on two occasions, with relating improper stories at a public banquet at Fall River, with making false accusations against other officers, with making false certificates and with knowingly signing false payrolls.

Col. Lombard claims that he is a victim of a conspiracy on the part of his brother officers.

GEORGE F. RICHARDSON

Prominent Lawyer and One of Lowell's Leading Citizens Dead

Lowell has lost one of its most prominent citizens in the person of George F. Richardson, a former mayor of this city, and a very learned attorney, who passed away this morning at his late home, 172 Nesmith street.

Deceased had not enjoyed the best of health for the past seven years at which time he gave up his practice and retired. One week ago his condition grew worse and he breathed his last at 10 o'clock this morning. His demise will be keenly felt all over the city, especially among the members of the Massachusetts bar.

George Francis Richardson was born on December 8, 1829, at Tyngsboro. He was the son of Daniel and Hannah Adams Richardson, his father having been an attorney-at-law and a prominent citizen of Tyngsboro. The ancestors of both his parents were honorably identified with the early history of New England. Having pursued his preparatory course of study at Phillips academy, Exeter, Mr. Richardson entered Harvard college in 1846, at the age of 16 years. Upon his graduation from college he entered the Dane Law school in Cambridge, from which at the age of 23 he graduated with honors, having received first prize for an essay. He practiced in Boston for two years and in 1858 he entered as partner in the law office of his brother, Daniel S. Richardson.

Though devoted to the practice of his profession, Mr. Richardson never forgot he was a citizen of Lowell. He was always alive to all that pertained to the welfare and honor of the city. Especially when the war of the Rebellion made its first demand upon the self-sacrifice and patriotism of the people, he stood forth as the trusted and accepted leader, and inspired his fellow

ROGERS HALL SCHOOL

Rev. Dr. J. M. Greene Writes of its Progress

The following communication is re-printed from Rev. John M. Greene, D. D., now a resident of Boston:

Mr. Editor: Many thanks for your consent to print in your valuable paper some facts about one of Lowell's well-deserving institutions. During twenty years the Rogers Hall School has been doing its beneficent work in this city, yet many of our citizens think of it and speak of it as only a "private school." They forget that in a private school the proprietors own the property, namely, the land and buildings, and pay taxes on the property, and receive and use the profits and gains of the school for themselves. There are many private schools in our commonwealth. Dana Hall, in Wellesley, is a private school. In 1891 Mrs. E. B. Rogers opened a private school on the corner of South and Andover streets, but in 1902 Miss Rogers opened a public school on Rogers street. It is a public school for three reasons: First, it is on land and in buildings given by Miss Rogers to the public; second, the state protects the property, but exempts it from taxation; third, it is maintained and conducted for the benefit of the public, and this with profits and proceeds of the school go to the public. None of the trustees of the Rogers Hall, with one notable exception, has charged and received pay for his services in the school. Many of them have given their services and their necessary expenses too. The school is a public benefit, and public spirited citizens are glad to help it do its beneficent work. The Rogers Hall school is as much a public institution as the Lowell General Hospital, or as Smith College is.

Let us notice now two particulars in which the Rogers Hall school differs from the city public schools. First, the personal contact of the teacher and pupil is greater in the Rogers Hall school than it can be in the ordinary public school. This contact of teacher and pupil is much more frequent and intimate in a school which aims to make itself a real home for the pupils. Miss Rogers had been brought up in the city schools. She had known no other. And she judged from her own personal knowledge that many boys and girls of fine mental calibre, in the city public schools, fall in their attempt to get a liberal education. They are not understood and met by their teachers. The instruction given is too general for the mind of the ordinary pupil to grasp and comprehend. The only remedy for this in the city public schools is to increase greatly the number of teachers. But that is an impossibility at present. The community is not ready to meet the increased expenses of an enlarged teaching force in our schools.

Miss Rogers thought there were many bright and promising girls in Lowell, who have been discouraged by their efforts to get an education, and will never realize the hope of their ambition, because they were not wisely and individually assisted by their teachers in their school days. She did not blame the teachers, for they did the best they could. The blame should fall on the school system. Each teacher on many pupils she could not work with them individually and personally. She must do her work with them in the classroom and then leave them. If those girls could have had also individual and personal assistance from their teachers, they would have been encouraged and have achieved success as scholars.

Miss Rogers desired, by her school, to

SYMPTOMS OF THIN BLOOD

How Building Up the Blood Makes Weak, Nervous People Strong and Robust.

Have you ever stopped to consider what is the meaning of the various symptoms from which you are suffering? Certainly the paleness, pain in the back, headaches, loss of appetite, nervousness, shortness of breath must have some one cause. They are not diseases in themselves but are complaints and warnings from the different organs of the body that these organs are not being supplied with pure blood and cannot do their daily work well.

To be in good health a person must always have good, rich blood. Every tissue of the body depends upon it for nourishment and strength. Knowledge of this fact makes possible a direct treatment for the various disorders from which we suffer. You can cure yourself by making the blood pure with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Mrs. L. P. Lathrop, of Union street, Stoughton, Mass., says: "No one could have been more benefited by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People than I have. I had been treated by many different physicians but without help. My nerves were prostrated. For a long time my back was so weak that I could not get up from my chair. When I got so I could stand up, I was troubled with dizziness. I had to walk very slowly and was in constant fear of falling. My friends thought I was going into consumption. I was emaciated and reduced in weight to 93 pounds. I chanced to read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and got a box. They helped me and I used them until cured. From a poor, weak, nervous woman, I have become a strong, robust woman. I have had no physician for a number of years. I would recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to anyone suffering from any disease resulting from impoverished blood or weakness from any cause."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People should be used in anemia, chlorosis or green sickness, sick headache, nervousness and for a general run-down condition of the health. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are for sale at all druggists, or will be mailed to any address, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. J. C. Williams, Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. Our new booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," will be sent free on request.

request this need for the city of Lowell and for as many out of Lowell as should choose to come. When fathers and mothers shall see that a daughter in their home needs help which she does not get in the city schools, for the reason that more teachers are needed, and more individual work with each pupil is a necessity, they will improve the opportunity that is offered them at the Rogers Hall school to save their daughters from discouragement, and help to develop her into the noble woman she is capable of becoming. The Lowell city schools furnish about one teacher to every forty pupils. Boston is now making an earnest effort to increase the number of teachers in her city schools so that they shall have one teacher to every thirty-eight pupils. The Rogers Hall school has one teacher to every ten pupils. The instruction there is largely personal and individual. Every pupil's needs are carefully studied and understood by the teachers, and these needs are met directly by setting the instruction to the pupil.

The above is the perfection of school or college education, so far as the education of teacher and pupils goes. The number of girls who have been encouraged and awakened to a new intellectual life, in the Rogers Hall school, is already large, and it will be greatly increased as the years go on. The school has most skillful teachers, and a large number of them, so that every girl has a teacher who understands her individual needs and works directly to aid her. The success of the school in this individual work with pupils, has been great. It teaches every girl how to work and win victories for herself. It teaches her how to use her own faculties and make the most of her own gifts. Secondly, the Rogers Hall school differs from the city public schools in the greater emphasis given to it to physical culture and training. Girls need strong and healthy bodies, as much as they need trained and well-stored minds. Miss Rogers expected her school would have a good gymnasium, as well as good recitation rooms. I have heard her lament that she could not have had, in her early life, the training which the gymnasium gives in the development of a perfect body. I think, too, that in her last years she was fully persuaded that girls need to be taught how to play as well as how to work. There is need of a skilled teacher on the playground to teach fairness and justice and artistic skill. There is a best way of doing anything, even walking or running or throwing a ball. The out-of-door games and sports are as important for a girl's success in life as the indoor studies. Many a girl who is diligent and sometimes shunned and disliked by her mates, would be popular and admired by all, if she had been taught how to play gracefully and kindly. Many who have ungainly statures, or weak and feeble limbs, would become strong and vigorous, graceful, comely and beautiful, if they had the training of a skillful teacher in the gymnasium, and in the school sports and diversions on the playground.

The Rogers Hall school has been very successful in the health and physical training of its pupils so far. Very few cases of illness among the pupils have occurred during the twenty years of the school's existence. The grounds including Fort Hill park, are extensive, high and beautiful. Nothing could be better for daily strolls and walks. A new gymnasium is in process of erection. That will furnish all the modern improvements in the gymnasium and will give the school a perfect outfit for its work. The above are only two of the particulars in which the Rogers Hall school differs from the city public schools. Miss Rogers was a friend of the schools supported by the city. She went through every grade of them. All her school education she got in them. She meant to have her school not antagonistic to the city schools, but rather a supplement to them, supplying what they lack.

CAUSED A SENSATION

Premier Asquith Rejected Amendment to Minimum Wage Bill

LONDON, March 22.—Premier Asquith in the house of commons this afternoon refused to accept the miners' amendment to the minimum wage bill providing a minimum of $1.25 and 50 cents as the daily wage for men and boys respectively.

Enoch Edwards, labor member of parliament and president of the Miners Federation of Great Britain immediately announced that the premier's rejection of the miners' amendment closed the door to an immediate settlement of the strike.

The house had just entered on the committee stage of the minimum wage bill when the miners' amendment was moved and Premier Asquith's pronouncement, the gravity of which was immediately recognized because it is practically certain to bring about another deadlock, caused a sensation among the members. In opposing the miners' amendment the premier said that he was inclined to think the figures reasonable ones but said that it was most undesirable to insert in the bill any specific minimum wage or to establish the precedent of fixing the rate of wages by act of parliament. It would, he pointed out, be peculiarly dangerous to the men themselves because if parliament once expressed its judgment that $1.25 was a fair minimum wage that same amount would be bound to be treated as the maximum.

The work of relieving the distress is getting beyond the means of the local charities and demands are now being made on the government to take it up. It is estimated that the miners thus far have lost in wages $26,468,850, besides the depletion of the union funds, which will make another strike in any trade practically impossible for the next 18 months.

Factories and works of all kinds all over the country continue to close down and all the railroads are reducing their services to the minimum. The food supplies from abroad are also threatened. The bacon factories and creameries of Denmark, which depend entirely on England for their coal will soon have to discontinue their shipments to this country.

News comes today that one of the South American governments is considering the stocks of coal on hand in its ports for naval purposes which will prevent the shipment of meat to England. It is officially declared today that the Derbyshire pits will not be reopened until the surface men's demands for increased wages have been complied with.

LIQUOR DAYLIGHT BILL

Was Killed by a Large Vote in State Senate

BOSTON, March 22.—The Massachusetts state senate yesterday afternoon "knocked the spots" off the so-called liquor daylight bill which was reported Wednesday by a majority of the liquor law committee.

This is the bill that provided that nowhere in Massachusetts, in inns, hotels or saloons, should liquor be sold before 8 o'clock in the morning.

Although seriously opposed at the public hearing, the committee on liquor law by a vote of 6 to 5 reported this measure in the state senate. The measure came up yesterday afternoon in regular course.

Senator Clarke of Brockton, one of the liquor law committee, moved postponement. Only four senators favored this motion. Then the vote came on the bill itself. It was rejected without division or debate by a practically unanimous vote.

Bar and Bottle Bill

In the lower branch of the state legislature yesterday afternoon the committee on liquor law reported leave to withdraw on the petition to amend the bar and bottle act so that licensees may be issued for the transaction of the two kinds of business on the same premises. If the places where the bar and bottle business is transacted are physically divided.

The vote against the bill was five to six. Senator McLane, Representatives Doyle, Ford, O'Donnell and Teed are recorded dissenters.

$7,500 CAR STOLEN

Daring Robbery Took Place in Boston

BOSTON, March 22.—In less than two minutes after the chauffeur left to do some purchasing at a drug store, a $7,500 Packard limousine, owned by John C. Spring of Newton Highlands, was taken from Boylston and Berkeley streets yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The chauffeur left the car at the corner and he had no more than entered the store when he looked out and found that it was missing. He immediately reported to the police that the car had been stolen. Unlike most 1912 Packard models this one is green. It is a six-cylinder. The chauffeur had no idea who drove away the car and the police were unable to locate it last night.

Both the chauffeur and the owner assert that the automobile was stolen. A reward for its return is offered.

Millady's Toilet Table

By Miss D'AMALG

Enlarged pores, dark and discolored patches and similar blemishes of the complexion disappear in a week or ten days if a solution made by dissolving an original package of mayalene in a half pint of which hazel is rubbed on the face, neck and arms each morning. This is a safe complexion beautifier and should be used regularly instead of powder or other cosmetic. It preserves youthful charms and keeps the skin soft, smooth and white. Dry shampooing keeps the hair soft, wavy and richly lustrous. Too much water streaks and fades the hair and makes it dry and brittle. To make a shampoo powder, put a cupful of cornmeal in a fruit jar and mix with it a small original package of theros. Sprinkle a little on the head and brush it out thoroughly. The powder comes out easily and takes all dirt, dandruff and excess oil with it.

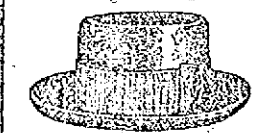

To remove superfluous hairs from face or forearms simply apply delatone paste. Mix enough powdered delatone with water to cover the hairs; apply and after two or three minutes wipe off with the chin and the hairs will be gone. This treatment is safe, speedy and sure.

Cuts, scratches and ordinary cases of sore throat, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck and asthma yield quickly to applications of Mother's Salve, rubbed in well before retiring. The world never saw its equal as a household remedy. It gives almost instant relief from aches, pains and sores.

At the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Hurd street tonight Manager Gumb of the association baseball team and the members of the team will hold a meeting at which plans for the coming season will be made and officers elected. While at present the lineup of the team is practically arranged a few changes may be made.

According to the present material on hand Manager Gumb has selected a very good lineup. Condon, who a few years ago pitched for the A. M. C. A. and the T. R. & T. team of North Billerica, has been signed to do the mound work. Another man to be given a try out for this position is Paul Stevens, who pitched for the association several years ago. For catcher, Percy Edwards, who played that position for the Lincoln last season, has been secured. Edwards is a very clever boy and through his friendship with Larry Gardner, third baseman for the Boston Red Sox, he had a chance to go to a league team this season for a try out. As he is rather light he decided to remain with the Y. M. C. A. this year and then may take the chance to enter fast company. Pitcher, who has played with the team for several seasons, will again be seen on the initial sack. Jenkins of last year's Lincoln team will play second base. Jimmy Grant, the star shortstop of the team for years, will be seen at his old position again. Stephens, who played with the Vermont college team, will play third. Norman Scott, of last year's team, will play left field, Johnson, who several years ago managed the team, will play right field, and Mcweeney who played with the team last year and the year before did great work for the T. R. & T. team of Billerica will do the work in left field.

While it is rather early Manager Gumb has arranged to play games with Westford, Shirley, Townsend, Clinton

Independent teams and also with many local teams.

Track Meet

Tomorrow the second meet of the Sunday school track teams will be held at the gymnasium. The first meet was won by the First Christian team. These meets will be held monthly and at the close of the schedule the winner of the largest number of meets will receive a beautiful cup. The meets are in charge of Thomas R. Williams, boys' work director.

Plans are underway and several committees are working on the arrangement for the annual circus to be given by the Bunting brothers. Now the committee is trying to secure a fitting place to present the show. When the place is selected announcement will be made. A. J. Wicks, physical director of the association is general manager of the circus and the assistant general managers are Walter Muzzey and Theodore Pearson.

Looking for Quarters

At the present time a committee of the association is looking up a suitable place for the association to meet inasmuch as they must soon vacate their present quarters. The building is owned by Albert O'Heir and as he plans to tear it down soon the association will have to seek quarters. It is not expected that the new building will be ready before August and other quarters are necessary.

The boy scouts of the Eliot church, 25 in number, under the direction of Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, are making elaborate plans for the coming season.

This company has a beautiful camp at Collingsville and the members plan to have a great season this year.

The Braut Centre boy scouts will hold a class track meet at Fox's field in the rear of the church on April 29. This is a very large company and has made considerable progress since its formation. The company is in charge of Rev. E. C. Bartlett of the Congregational church in Braut.

The first lecture of the series of the bible course, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. to be held at the First Baptist church will be held on Wednesday evening, April 2. The doors will be opened at 7:30 o'clock and the lecture will start at 8 o'clock.

THREE CONVICTED

Men Found Guilty of Picking Pockets

BOSTON, March 22.—In the superior court before Judge Brown, George Cline, George Davis and John Dixon were yesterday convicted on a charge of attempted larceny from the person. On January 1, 1910, near Horticultural hall Gordon McKenzie saw four men lift the coat of an old man and search his pockets. McKenzie kept them in sight, moving about from place to place until he met Patrolman Trainor. The four men were arrested and put in court. They furnished bail in $500 each and defaulted.

Dixon was arrested later in Chicago and Davis was arrested in Kansas City, Mo., while Cline was caught in Detroit. All three were brought back by the Boston police.

All have records and each are well known to the police as pickpockets. The trial of the case has taken several days.

CARBONOL
KEEPS THE HOME SWEET AND CLEAN

Send for Free Sample

CARBONOL is a powerful cleanser. If soap and water fail to clean anything to your satisfaction, add Carbonol to the water and see how quickly stains and grime vanish.
If you want to clean something, like a garbage-can, that is too greasy and foul for soap and water, try Carbonol and see the grease dissolve and the odors give place to perfect germ-free cleanliness.
If the presence of filth and decaying matter cannot be avoided, as is the case with garbage, sprinkle the stuff with a Carbonol solution to stop putrefaction, suppress odors and keep away flies.

If you find a stain on the carpet that water will not remove, try a Carbonol solution and see it vanish.
If there is a contagious disease in the house, soap and water cleanliness will not be enough. Mix a little Carbonol in the water you use and it will destroy every germ it comes in contact with and purify the air.
Carbonol has many other uses.

MONEY RECOVERED

Man Swallowed Bills Alleged to be Stolen

NASHUA, N. H., March 22.—Only after an emetic had been administered hypodermically last night by the city physician did Fred Tupper yield $15 which John Hall claims Tupper stole from him. Hall is a woodsman from Lincoln, N. H., and came to Nashua for a little recreation. He fell in with Tupper, a native of this city, who recently came back here.

They hired a room at Noe Jarvis' lodging house on West Pearl street late last evening. Mr. Jarvis complained to Police Capt. Cleary that his new lodgers were having a row in their room and wished them removed. When Capt. Cleary entered the room, Hall accused Tupper of taking his roll. Capt. Cleary locked himself to Tupper's right wrist and led him to the station house along with Hall. As soon as the twisters were taken off, Patrolman Thomas McLoughlin saw Tupper push his hand into his right overcoat pocket and put something which he took out into his mouth. Patrolman McLoughlin shouted to Deputy Chief George H. Campbell, who caught Tupper by the throat. They struggled and the policemen present tried to pry Tupper's mouth open, but before they were successful he succeeded in swallowing something.

The physician was called and the medicine injected under the skin of Tupper's left arm soon caused him to throw up the contents of his stomach. First came a $5 National bank note and then a $10 yellow-back. The treatment yielded no further results and the bills were dried on a radiator to be used as evidence.

SUIT FOR $100,000

A HAT THE CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE

CHICAGO, March 22.—For several hours yesterday in Judge Pomero's court, Mrs. Esther Mercey, a former student of the University of Chicago, who is suing Maxine Talbot, dean of women at that institution, for $100,000 for alleged defamation of character, underwent a severe cross-examination. She still was on the stand when court adjourned.

At times yesterday Mrs. Mercey's answers to questions were heated, especially when reference was made to her flame, Warren E. Reynolds, who gave her a hat that was worth $250. The alleged theft of a pen from this hat started a quarrel which ended in Mrs. Mercey's expulsion from the university. Miss Mercey said she learned shortly after she met Reynolds that he was a married man.

Miss Mercey told of her visit to the office of President Judson after charges had been made against her by Dean Talbot.

"I said for God's sake can't you help me out?" she testified.

"What did the president say?" was asked.

"He told me he was too busy to listen to me."

NEW FACTS ABOUT ECZEMA

For years eczema was thought to be incurable, and it is so considered today by many people. But since the coming of Cadum, eczema is now a curable disease. Cadum has proved a blessing to many who have suffered for years from distressing, stubborn and disgusting skin diseases. It is soothing and healing to an inflamed, irritated or diseased skin. It stops the itching at once, and begins healing with the first application. It is antiseptic and when applied to an open sore or wound prevents infection from disease germs. Cadum quickly acts upon eczema, pimples, sores, blotches, ulcers, eruptions, rashes, rough skin, chafings, itching piles, etc. At all druggists, 10c and 25c.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Representative David J. Foster of Vermont died here last night after an illness of three weeks. Mr. Foster was first stricken with grip, which yesterday developed into pneumonia and terminated fatally in a few hours. He was 54 years old.

NEW RECORD

FOR STREET RAILROADING MADE BY STORRS

NEW YORK, March 22.—The private trailer car of L. S. Storrs of the Connecticut Street Railway company arrived here shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after a trip from Boston, establishing a new record for street railroading.

People have come here from Boston on street cars, but never before has the trip been made in one car. Two hundred and thirty miles were covered in about 20 hours' actual running time.

The big apple-green car was not as dazzling as it was when it left Park square, Boston early yesterday. But the members of the Street Railway club of Boston who made the trip were enthusiastic over the success of the journey. Two conductors and two motormen were in charge.

From Boston the car proceeded over the Boston & Worcester line to Worcester. The route taken then was through Springfield, Hartford and New Haven. After spending Wednesday night in New Haven, the trip was resumed at 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

Yesterday the car passed through Bridgeport, Norwalk, Stamford, Portchester and Mount Vernon.

CAUGHT BY A WOMAN

General Agent F. J. Cole, who addressed the strikers at a mass meeting held in the Cold Spring boathouse. Agent Cole explained that business had been built during the winter, that the plant was run on short time and orders were taken without profit to the company in order that the men might be kept at work. There were indications, he said, that business was about to pick up a little and the advance offered by the company was based upon the prospective business activity.

NERVOUS COLLAPSE

NEIGHBORS THOUGHT WOMAN HAD TAKEN POISON

BOSTON, March 22.—Thought at first to have swallowed a deadly poison because of the suddenness of her illness, Dora Rubin of 13 Seneca street in the South End was rushed to the City hospital yesterday forenoon and placed on the dangerous list.

After the surgeons tried in vain to find some symptom of poisoning, an investigation was ordered to see who had made the assertion that the young woman had swallowed poison.

The Rubin girl lives with her married sister, Mrs. Max Toga, and for the past month has been suffering from a nervous collapse caused by overwork. Yesterday morning, when she was stricken, several of the neighbors rushed in and, noting her condition, immediately circulated the story that she had taken poison. Someone telephoned to police headquarters that she was dying from poison and an ambulance was sent in a hurry. The family physician arrived first, however, and, while he could find no symptoms of poison, he determined to take no chances and allowed her to go to the hospital.

FRANK HEIFER

FOR WHICH MAN REFUSED $50 IS DEAD

HOLBROOK, March 22.—Elmore Kingsley's freak calf, which was half cow and half deer, died yesterday, to the infinite disgust of Kingsley, who had just turned down an offer of $50 by a Boston showman for it.

"The only way I can see of breaking even now is to stuff it and place it on exhibition," declared Kingsley, when told of the freak's death.

The calf lived sixteen days. The front part of it was a perfect reproduction in miniature of a cow. The hind half was just as perfect a reproduction of a young deer.

"It just couldn't make its feet behave, because the hind half could run like a deer, while the front half ran like a cow, so it just laid down and died," declared Kingsley's hired man. The freak has been seen by several hundred persons, who kept arriving at Kingsley's farm.

inscription on the case reads: "Presented to the mayor by the governor's horseguard at the grand Tri-Centenary of Burlington, Vt." Gray said that he entered Mrs. Smith's house to call on a friend named Whalen, whom he had met casually some time ago.

BALFOUR IS BEATEN

Minimum Wage Bill Passes the Second Reading

LONDON, March 22.—Arthur J. Balfour's motion for the rejection of the minimum wage bill was defeated, and the government bill passed its second reading in the house of commons last night by a majority of 123—larger majority than the ministerialists themselves had hoped for. The vote stood 348 to 225. The laborites and nationalists voted with the government.

The prime minister formally moved the second reading of the bill and then immediately yielded the floor to Mr. Balfour, who, in moving its rejection, temporarily assumed the leadership of the opposition. The debate on the bill was interesting in character and served to dissipate much alarm which was created by the announcement last night that the unionists intended to oppose the passage of the measure. It is now evident that the conservative leaders had no idea of upsetting the government, but that they merely desired to wash their hands of responsibility for the bill, and had no wish to assume office themselves.

Mr. Balfour pointed out the gravity of the crisis which had been brought about by a single organization, acting within its legal powers, threatening to paralyze the whole trading of the country. He said that in endeavoring to pass this bill the government was deceiving both itself and the house of commons.

ROMANCE IS OVER

Cow Girl Artist Leaves Husband

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., March 22.—John Otto, a Colorado trail builder, and Beatrice Farnham Otto, the Boston artist, have parted. Their romantic marriage at the top of the Independence Peak last June has come to naught.

Mrs. Farnham left Grand Junction immediately on the return from her honeymoon, telling her friends and husband she would soon return.

Yesterday Otto announced in a letter to the newspapers that she would not come back. He said that they did not believe in marriage in the divorce courts, but used both because they wished to obey the laws. He said that a divorce would be secured on the ground of "desertion for business reasons."

But the real divorce ceremony would be as unique as their marriage among the mountain canyons. Black ribbons were tied around the necks of his horses, his horses and his dogs, and after four days' mourning will be burned and the ashes scattered to the four winds.

LAWYER MORSE

Wants Richeson's Sentence Commuted

BOSTON, March 22.—William A. Morse, of counsel for Clarence V. T. Richeson, under sentence of death for the murder of Avis Linnell, called at the state house yesterday and had a long conference with Gov. Foss and Dudley M. Helman, the governor's secretary.

The lawyer's visit was construed to be the first move toward an attempt to have the sentence commuted. The different forms to be filed and the mode of procedure in such cases were explained to Mr. Morse. When he left the executive department he said the formal petition for commutation of sentence probably would not be presented for a couple of weeks.

BABY'S FACE A SIGHT WITH ECZEMA

Scab Half Inch Thick Covered Top of Head, Would Dig Until Blood Ran Down Fingers. Completely Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

86 Andes Ave., Geneva, N. Y. — "At the age of six weeks little water blisters appeared on my son's cheeks and kept spreading until they covered his entire face and ears, also on the top of his head. There was a scab half an inch thick that covered the whole top of his head and if you pressed on it the pus would ooze out all around. When the scabs came off the hair came with them. We had to keep his hands pinned to his sides all the time and then he would get at his face sometimes in spite of everything, and dig it until the blood would run down his fingers. His face was a sight with the terrible eczema. No one ever looked worse than he did. I cannot describe it. He was getting worse all the time. I got some Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and used them. In two weeks there was a great change. By the time he was nine months old he was completely cured through the use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. J. C. Scott, June 9, 1911.

If you wish a skin clear of pimples, blackheads and other annoying eruptions, hands soft and white, hair lustrous and glossy, and scalp free from dandruff and itching, begin today the regular use of Cuticura Soap for the toilet, bath and shampoo, assisted by an occasional light application of Cuticura Ointment. No other method is so agreeable, so economical, and so often effective. Cuticura Soap (25c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-page book on the skin and hair. Address, "Cuticura," Dept. T, Boston. Tender-faced men should take with Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick.

TO UNIFY ROADS

Rep. Dean Explains Provisions of Bill

BOSTON, March 22.—Representative Charles A. Dean of Wakefield, in speaking before the committee on railroads at the state house yesterday, with his own bill compelling the roads to build tunnels and clearly as the basis for his remarks, declared that he favored progress, development and more railroads, but believed that no railroad is coming to Boston except to favor itself. This he insisted, was the main incentive of the Grand Trunk.

The remedy, as expressed in his bill, is to tunnel Boston—requiring the railroads to build a tube—between the North and South stations and thus "connect up our systems." The measure also requires electrification within the Metropolitan district, and further provides that another tunnel be built under the harbor to reach the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn, and by that road, when standardized, the industries of Essex county as well as the East Boston flats.

The bill requires the railroads to spend $25,000,000 for such a purpose at the rate of $5,000,000 a year. "Rather than open our arms in welcome to the Grand Trunk or other railroads, in expectation of seeing the port of Boston grow by leaps and bounds, we should at least treat some existing roads fairly and make some attempt to mold them into one effective whole," said Mr. Dean. "The real course," said the speaker, "for New England to pursue, I believe, is to bring together the entire New England system of railroads as one great force. Then the executives of the roads could say to the great trunk lines of the nation 'We have got so much traffic to offer you, and in consideration of its vast amount we demand a fair return traffic to Boston.'"

As a matter of fact Boston has more than held its own. The idea of raising hue and cry that we have not been served by the existing railroads is not true. The port of Boston is keeping up pretty well in general exports and imports. This is so on the ground that it would make a monopoly of all the railroads in Massachusetts. He said it is drawn in the interests of the New Haven and the Boston & Maine railroads.

BAHAI NEW YEAR

CELEBRATED BY FOLLOWERS OF PERSIAN PROPHET

BOSTON, March 22.—Boston Bahais, followers of Abdul Baha, the Persian prophet of a universal religion, met last evening at the home of Mrs. Alice Ives Breed, 361 Harvard street, Cambridge, to celebrate the Feast of Nawrooz, Bahai New Year.

Thirty of the sect were present and listened to readings from the teachings of the Bahai prophets, past and present. This year fewer attended the feast than last Nawrooz, when 60 gathered to observe the occasion.

Plans were made at the observance for the reception which will be tendered Abdul Baha, "Servant of God," present leader of the sect, who will come to Boston some time in May. Mrs. Breed expects to leave Cambridge for Washington and New York early next month with a number of other

WOMAN THIEF

PLEADED GUILTY AND WAS GIVEN SENTENCE

BOSTON, March 22.—The mystery surrounding the identity of Mary B. Melssner, who has also called herself, in the past, Mary White and Bertha Gorman, probably never will be solved. She yesterday was sentenced to the reformatory for women at Sherborn, after pleading guilty to breaking and entering many homes and stealing hundreds of dollars' worth of jewelry, silverware and clothing.

John Carter, who was arrested with her in the raid made by Inspector Mitchell and Officers Wright and Dorsey at 267 Shawmut avenue, also was arraigned and, upon his plea of guilty to four counts, was sent to the state prison for a term of not more than seven nor less than five years.

BOARD OF TRADE

PRESIDENT HARVEY R. GREENE

GEN. HUGH BANCROFT

SEC. JOHN H. MURPHY

Prominent Men Addressed Members at Annual Banquet

The annual banquet of the Lowell board of trade was held in Associate hall last night and was attended by over 400 people, who were given the opportunity to listen to as good speakers as ever came to town. The subjects treated were all very important and interesting and they were handled in a precise and careful manner. The list of speakers comprised Hon. James E. O'Donnell, Gen. Hugh Bancroft, chairman of the directors of the port of Boston; Mr. Edward F. McSweeney, chairman of the board of trustees of the Boston Conservatory hospital, and Hon. Herman A. Metz, ex-city controller of New York. Detective William J. Burns was also booked as one of the speakers, but pressing business interrupted his trip to this city.

The guests were met at the railroad station late yesterday afternoon and taken to the York club, where they remained until 6:15 o'clock, when they were escorted to Associate hall. At that time the members of the association also arrived and until 6:15 o'clock a reception was held.

At 7 o'clock all present took seats around the festive board and after a delightful overture selection by Hibbard's orchestra which was in attendance, Rev. S. W. Cummings, pastor of the First Baptist church, offered prayer. The menu was a most elaborate one.

At the conclusion of the meal President Harvey R. Greene called to order and after a brief address of welcome presented as the first speaker, Mayor James E. O'Donnell, who spoke on the "City of Lowell." The mayor's address was as follows:

"The business interest of any community is the life-blood of its whole social system, and hence if this gathering is a fair sample of the business interest of Lowell then its future holds much of promise."

"I was informed recently by a member of this body, that I am an exception to most of the mayors of Lowell, inasmuch as I attend the meetings of the board of directors, and show a personal interest in the work of the organization. In the few meetings that I have attended since my election to office, I have found the time well spent, and have been impressed with the fact that, in the Lowell board of trade, the community has an organization of which it may well feel proud; an organization of energetic, progressive and well intentioned business men, and I am sure, gentlemen of the board, that my absence from future meetings will be unavoidable. Energy produces satisfactory results, and the board of trade, by its energy, has produced such results. Time was and is being saved, when the board of trade had merely a local habitation and a name, but its growth within a decade has been most remarkable and encouraging, both in numbers and influence, until today it is a prominent factor in the city's life and progress. One of its strongest features has been its intelligent and untiring work to bring new and diversified industries to this city. Its results along these lines have been most gratifying, and, for instance, where ten years ago Lowell boasted of but two shoe manufacturing plants, we have now nine prosperous concerns in operation here. The work of the board of trade, which with the individual cooperation of some of its own members, resulted in the location of the Boston and Maine car shops in Billerica bringing a $2,000,000 plant and 2000 skilled mechanics to our doors, is too fresh in the public mind to need more than a passing reference at this time."

"The success of the success of the organization has been the personal interest, enthusiasm, and unhesitating sacrifice of a large percentage of the membership in behalf of the entire community. There are at present, I believe, fifteen standing committees of the board, and hardly a day passes but we read in the press of some movement inaugurated by some committee being presented by one or another of these committees, all tending to the advancement of the general welfare of the community. Only a day ago, the board was prominently represented at the legislature in behalf of the completion of the river road connecting Lowell and Lawrence by state highway. A short time ago, the Washington press dispatches tell of the influence of the board with others at the nation's capital, urging the improvement of the Merrimack river. The municipal council at present has before it for its consideration the important public utility proposition inaugurated by the board of trade. I could communicate many other improvements and returns of general advantage, such as the extension of express delivery, the removal of unsightly bill boards, improved local postal service, better regulations, etc., all brought about by this wide-awake organization."

"One of the greatest factors in a city's progress is community efficiency, which I am pleased to note is being successfully promoted by the board of trade. The strength of a community lies in two resources, the natural and the artificial. The natural resources, consisting of the blessings bestowed by the Creator, must be developed by the personal resources, and by personal resources is meant the spirit, the character and the thrift of the population. Effective men often arouse opposition, and they sometimes make mistakes, for it is human to err. But the community should encourage them and rally to their support. Hence, as a body of effective men, the Lowell board of trade is entitled to, and should receive the encouragement, support and co-operation of the citizens at large."

"Let us leave this banquet hall tonight with a firm spirit of co-operation, the great essential of community efficiency, and go forth with the determination to aid the board of trade in its good work. The business future of Lowell has a hopeful outlook. We have passed through an industrial crisis. Our textile industries are about to give an increase in wages, painfully small, it is true, but nevertheless an increase; our building outlook is most encouraging, and it is up to us as our community's well-wishers to become imbued with a spirit of optimism and its attendant enthusiasm, and to post at the outskirts of our beloved city, sign boards bearing the inscription, the invitation: "Come in. Don't stop to knock."

General Bancroft

Gen. Hugh Bancroft, chairman of the directors of the port of Boston, was next introduced and his address, which was on the port of Boston, was as follows:

"It is no exaggeration to say that Lowell and the other important industrial cities of Massachusetts and New England have more at stake in the development of the port of Boston than has Boston itself, for Boston is not so much an industrial, as it is a financial and mercantile center."

"The great need of the industries of the state is effective distribution. We in Massachusetts can produce the goods in competition with anyone, but our problem is to get them to the consumer promptly and cheaply. The development of the port of Boston means lower rates and better service for every place that can ship and receive goods through the port."

Lowell by the last census figures is using $12,830,745 worth of raw materials and turning out over $60,370,061 of finished product. Much of this is carried from and distributed to distant points in part by water transportation. Lowell is many thousands of dollars out of pocket each year because so much of this is passing through the port of New York. New England rates are usually made by adding the full local rate plus cost of delivery at New York to the New York sea and rail rate, thus:

Cotton piece goods, Lowell to Galveston per 100 pounds via N. Y., $8.41. (To New York 10c, to Galveston 25c, total 41c.)

Cotton piece goods, Lowell to Galveston by way of Boston, 35c. (To Boston 12c, to Galveston 25c, total 35c.)

On high class goods, say fine dry goods, at first class freight, the rate to New York is 27c, steamboat side, and to Boston Steamboat side, 16c.

making a saving of 12c in favor of the port of Boston.

Means a Saving

The development of the port of Boston should, therefore, mean 12c a hundred saved on all piece dry goods shipped from Lowell to the southwest.

Some people have inquired why the state and not the city should develop the port of Boston. The state has been for forty years committed to the policy of developing the port of Boston, and has since 1870 spent over $5,000,000; the state owns a large and important part of the water front, while the city owns practically nothing; the state owns several thousand acres of flats in the harbor upon which the development of the future will be made; and beside Boston itself, there are a dozen other cities and towns fronting on the harbor; but the chief answer is that the continued industrial supremacy of the whole state is linked up with and almost dependent upon the full development of the port of Boston.

The problem of the development of the port is to bring about conditions that will attract more ships to the port.

In getting at the solution of the problem, the directors of the port of Boston have submitted to the public for their consideration, through the governor and legislature, two important matters of policy which I wish to discuss.

It is the ambition of the directors of the port of Boston to make the development of the port self-supporting. The directors are already authorized to expend in the improvement of the harbor $2,000,000 to be raised by the sale of state bonds. The board would like to spend the money in such a way that it will produce enough revenue to pay the interest and even the principal of the bonds without calling upon the taxpayers of the state for a cent.

Boston's Foreign Trade

The foreign trade of Boston is now conducted at terminals owned by the railroads. The railroads give steamship lines the use of their piers free of charge. If the $2,000,000 should be spent in a foolish attempt to provide new terminal facilities in competition with existing facilities, how much revenue could be secured?

But if the $2,000,000 is spent in improving and adding to present facilities, it is quite another matter. This brings us to the root of the whole problem of the intelligent development of the port.

The largest and best equipped piers and docks are necessary. All the railroad connections that can be secured are necessary and new and improved steamship connections both coastwise and foreign are necessary. But in order that these improvements may be made, there are two fundamental conditions to be fulfilled.

First, the water front, meaning its piers and railroad connections used for commercial purposes, must be under single control.

Second, that single control must be public control.

The acquisition of our water front is both necessary and inevitable. The only question is when and how to do it.

If we acquire the most important part of our water front at once we can make up much of the ground we have lost.

What the board has asked is to be put in a position so that it can acquire for the public the most valuable part of the water front, to constitute a public terminal such as exists in other ports, open to all railroads and steamships on equal terms, thus making Boston genuinely an open port free to compete with other great ports for the business of the world.

The board does not ask to have the taxpayers of the state pick up the money for any part of it. The board does not ask to be placed in such a position that the investors of the state will furnish all the necessary funds.

As a means of accomplishing the desired results without calling on the taxpayers for any contribution, either now or in the future, the board has recommended that the port directors be constituted a public corporation, to be incorporated only in the sense that the city of Lowell is a corporation, a method which the successful experience of other large seaports has demonstrated to be the most businesslike means of financing port development.

The board claims no credit for the suggestion; it was the form of organization proposed in the first draft of the bill that created the board.

Such a public corporation, with the power to sell its own bonds, could easily raise the money necessary to buy all the water front desired. It would pay the interest on its bonds each year out of the earnings of the property which it would hold as the agent of the state.

If the state should put its credit behind these bonds to the extent of guaranteeing the payment of the interest, they could be sold on a much better basis, on a 3 1/2 per cent interest basis instead of say 4 1/2 per cent.

This is all the board has suggested that the state should do.

The question has been asked, why shouldn't the port directors spend their $2,000,000 before asking for any more? The answer is that if the public owns the water front, the $2,000,000 can be expended so as to pay its cost but under present conditions it would be very hard to do it.

Lowell is admirably situated for industrial growth. Not the least of its advantages has been that it is within 55 miles of one of the greatest ports of the world—New York. Lowell will assure her future by securing to her own port, only 25 miles away, is also developed into one of the greatest ports of the world.

The third speaker on the list was Mr.

Edward F. McSweeney of Boston, who dwelt in a very interesting manner on "The Problem of the Alien." He treated his subject as only an expert would and his remarks were often interrupted with loud applause.

Mr. McSweeney's address was as follows:

Mr. McSweeney's Address

"It is the well known psychology of democracies that when a thing goes wrong, attention is centered on one or two things of significant importance, with no interest in anything else. If we have a crop failure we blame the party in power, and for an outbreak of anarchy we put the fault on the yellow press, and thus having created a sin-eater we are content to let things drift along until the next time, not caring to go behind the scape-goat to see whether the political party is not the victim of overwhelming conditions or whether the yellow press is only an echo of the voice of the people. In the intervals when the party in power, "The System" or the yellow press are not in the spot-light, we

THE FAT MAN'S CLUB

To Hold a Banquet in This City
Next Monday

Perhaps because nobody loved them, the fat men have organized and they do tell that they have some organization. It is known as the United States Fat Men's club and it weighs two hundred thousand pounds. This great mountain of human flesh will drop into Lowell next Monday night and will endeavor to put on another few ounces by indulging in a sumptuous banquet at the New American house, where the club will hold a meeting. This club which was organized under the laws of Massachusetts in November, 1911, makes up in uniqueness what it lacks in delicacy. There are quite a number of Lowell men on its membership roll, so many in fact that the club decided that this city was entitled to the honor of a meeting and they will get together here next Monday night, March 25.

were born fat, others acquired it and some had it thrust upon them in the form of cement driers and other things.

The club was organized for the purpose of getting together and discussing plans for the reduction of superfluous flesh but the fat boys just simply couldn't stand it and at their third meeting they voted to make business good for the beef trust by banqueting occasionally.

The Sun is in receipt of a communication from the president of the club inviting us to attend the banquet, and if The Sun can arrange with a former member of its staff, who is already a member of the club, we will be represented at the banquet.

organized because nobody loved them and their only excuse is that they are gregarious, and like many of the furred and winged peoples of the world, they like to get together.

The president of the club is W. D. Quimby, the secretary George B. Wragg, and the treasurer John K. Wells. The board of directors consists of the president, secretary, treasurer and Edward E. Plimsted of Boston, of the well-known Maine family. Arthur H. Moulton of Portland, W. F. Planders of Concord, J. C. Metcalf of Rhode Island, J. H. Thompson, G. B. Tenney, John M. Keres, William Wood, W. A. Bryden, J. S. Spencer, G. B. Wilmarth, L. E. Kimball, Sumner Jewett, George C. Devine and J. W. Wilbur.

In the membership are seven citizens of Indiana, one each from Texas, Oklahoma and Alabama. These western men joined recently, having heard of the club from friends, who had been to this part of the country on business. Several of them were introduced at the club's banquet during the latter part of February, when more than 250 healthy members made merry.

The 514 members of the club average in weight 230 pounds each. One member of the club weighs 508 pounds and is at all times glad to announce that he is "holding his own."

On the evening of April 12 the Fat Man's club will have a ladies' night, entertainment and banquet at Kingsley hall, in the Ford building, Boston, and at the April monthly meeting it is thought that something will be done in the way of preliminary arrangements for the summer outing of the club.

Just how this annual event will be observed is not yet known. It may be a down the short trip on a barge or a run into the country on corporation trucks.

Usually, except in July, August and September, the club meets on the second

FRENCH AERO CLUB

HAVE DRAWN UP SET OF "RULES OF THE AIR"

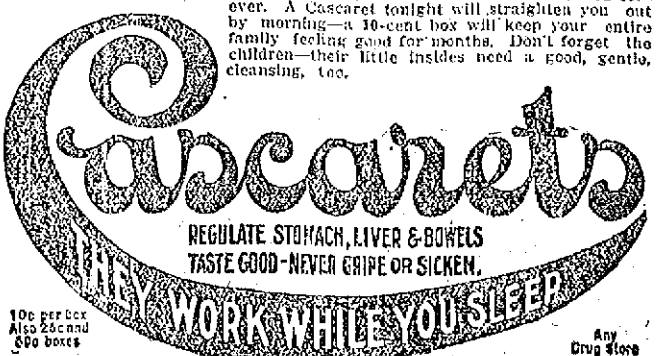

NEW YORK, March 22.—Excerpts from a set of "Rules of the air" recently drawn up by the Aero Club of France have just reached this city. The rules include these: Two air craft meeting must always star to the right and pass 110 yards apart. One aircraft overtaking another is responsible for keeping clear. It must not approach within 110 yards to the right or 110 yards to the left of the overtaken craft and must not pass directly under the other craft.

FOR SICK, SOUR, BILIOUS STOMACH, INDIGESTION AND GAS TAKE CASCARETS

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means indigestion; a disordered stomach which cannot be regulated until you have removed the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets, they cure indigestion, because they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, unassimilated and fermented food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended forever. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle, cleansing, too.

NEW CRUSADE

IN NEW YORK AGAINST THE LONG-HAT PIN

NEW YORK, March 22.—A new crusade against the long hatpin is to be launched here, this time by the city's department of health. As a beginner, the plan is to post printed placards in street cars, elevated and subway lines warning women who wear long and dangerous "pins" of the danger they are to others.

CHAMP CLARK'S NAME

Will Appear on the Ballot in This State

BOSTON, March 22.—Speaker Champ Clark of Missouri will be on the ballot in this state as a candidate for the democratic nomination for president with Governor Foss.

Up to date it appears that there will be only two candidates for president on the ballot, Governor Foss and Speaker Clark.

Ex-Mayor Josiah Quincy, who is in charge of the campaign of Woodrow Wilson in Massachusetts, says that the name of the New Jersey candidate will not appear on the ballot.

Papers were taken out at the office of the secretary of state for Speaker Clark late yesterday afternoon. The Hearst forces in this state are behind Speaker Clark. It is believed that there will be a big vote cast for Mr. Clark and that on the second ballot the Massachusetts delegation will be obliged to vote for him.

It has been finally decided that Governor Foss' name will appear on the ballot as a candidate for the nomination, although the governor has told Chairman Thomas P. Kelly of the state committee that he is in no sense a candidate for the nomination.

The present plan of the democratic state committee is to have the delegation at large pledged to the candidacy of Governor Foss.

however to note that George M. Harlow, political secretary to the governor, as a candidate for delegate from the 14th district, states on his nomination papers that he is "for a progressive democracy."

It has been finally decided by Secretary of State Langtry that instead of voting for an entire delegation by marking a cross in a circle at the head of a delegation the votes will be cast for the individual candidates. There has been considerable misunderstanding over this phase of the new primary law, it having been generally supposed that a cross in the circle at the top of the ballot would vote the entire delegation.

Frank J. Donahue announced last night that he would run independent as a candidate for delegate at large, pledged to Governor Foss.

Roosevelt Here Tomorrow

All nomination papers must be certified by the registrars of voters in the various cities and towns by March 30. All papers must be filed with the secretary of state on April 2. The primaries will be held on April 30.

Colonel Roosevelt will be in this city tomorrow morning for a few hours on his way to Portland, Me., where he is scheduled to speak in the evening. While here Colonel Roosevelt will hold a conference with Merrill McCormack, who is at the Hotel Touraine, and his campaign manager, Matthew Hale.

THE LABOR COUNCIL

Favors Petition of Grand Trunk Road

At a meeting of the Trades and Labor council held last night it was unanimously voted to go on record as in favor of the Grand Trunk railroad extending its lines into Massachusetts and through Lowell.

The council voted to accept an invitation to appoint a committee and attend a meeting to be held at the Ministry-at-Large on April 9.

It being announced that Rev. James E. Gregg, one of the delegates from the Federation of Churches to the council, was about to leave the city, suitable resolutions were adopted.

A committee was received from the California state federation of labor to the effect that 50,000 people are now idle in San Francisco alone, and warning all workmen to remain away from that state at the present time. The communication was signed by the federation officers and also by John J. Nolan, secretary of the League for the Protection of the Unemployed.

RAILROAD MEN

DENY THAT PRES. MELLON IS TO RESIGN

BOSTON, March 22.—In local railroad circles yesterday no credence was placed in the report that President Charles S. Mellon, head of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and Boston & Maine, was to resign in order to take charge of the New York Central lines.

Mr. Mellon himself was attending the regular monthly meeting of the directors of the New York Central at New York and could not be reached to reply directly to the rumor.

It was reported yesterday that President Mellon had been the personal choice of the late E. H. Harriman to take charge of the New York Central lines and that the present head, W. C. Brown, was to resign his office.

It is asserted that the only man Harriman believed could carry out the work he had mapped out for the New York Central road was President Mellon, and that the latter might be induced to take hold of the Central road. This would necessitate his resignation from the New Haven, which local railroad men say is not likely.

THE VINCENT GIRLS

MET AT HOME OF MARY HIGGINS LAST EVENING

An organization of popular young ladies of this city, known as the Vincent girls, met at the home of Miss Mary Higgins, 181 London street last evening and enjoyed an excellent entertainment. Miss Jean Gilman introduced a number of entertaining games among them being Blind the Donkey. This furnished great amusement for all and the winner of first prize was Miss Ina McCusick. Second prize was won by Miss Jennie Mowatt. Other games were played after which a musical program was carried out.

Vocal solos were given by Miss Katherine Nagle, Miss Helen Hurley and Miss Lena Sullivan. A pleasing recitation, entitled "Lost at Sea," was given in a clever manner by Miss Christine Stewart. Piano solos were given by Miss Jean Gilman while Miss Ina McCusick entertained with an exhibition of toe dancing. Organ selections were played by Misses Jennie Mowatt and Miss Josephine Pearson. Putting the evening refreshments were served. At the conclusion of the delightful affair all voted it a grand success. The members of the club present last evening were: Misses Helen Hurley, Ina McCusick, Christine Stewart, Jean Gilman, Jennie Mowatt, Katherine Nagle, Josephine Pearson, Lena Sullivan, Mary and Jessie Higgins.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

An event of more than ordinary importance in the amusement field will occur at the Opera House tonight and Saturday when Geo. M. Coburn's long anticipated play "Get Rich Quick Wallingford" will be seen for the first time in this city. New York city and Chicago have staged the play with success of unusual significance. In the first named city the Coburn comedy ran for almost two years, while its continuous prosperity in Chicago lasted for nearly fourteen months.

The tremendous vogue of this play which has succeeded in performing a tour of the United States, and demonstrating as the best of them, Geo. M. Coburn has given to the American stage, is the tribute being paid by thousands of the admirers of this gifted genius who has repeatedly supplied his following with plays of obvious moral initiative introduced in an atmosphere of compelling laughter. Prototypes of Wallingford, the shrewd financial operator of the comedy classic are to be found in countless numbers, but to vitalize the type as the author has done, to present him in a way that awakens the sympathy and compass the love of an audience which, though repelling the best of them, are still in accord with his get-rich-quick schemes, is a place of stage craft equaled by few playwrights of modern times.

MONTGOMERY AND STONE

Montgomery and Stone are coming for an engagement of one night at the Opera House soon. A lot of people who heard their neighbors say how much they enjoyed "The Old Town" last season, and how funny they found it, are now proving themselves right in their excellent musical comedy by George Ade and Gustav Luders are to be afforded a belated opportunity to correct their sins of omission in not having seen Montgomery and Stone last season.

KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

You've seen, or at least you've heard of Eva Tanguay who is getting big money as an eccentric comedienne. If you would see another eccentric comedienne who has it all over her for fun-making, go to Keith's and see Miss Moore of the New York favorites. Miss Moore is eccentrically constructed physically and she uses her peculiar figure to great advantage in furnishing the comedy. She is there with the latest slang and can sing and dance, while she is doing something laughable all the time. Her partner, an obtuse Englishman, who usually wakes up to the comedy. Prof. Hickey and his animal circus, consisting of two beautiful ponies and two obstreperous mules, not forgetting a hard-working colored "geoman," present one of the most enjoyable animal acts ever seen here. It's worth big money to see the boys try to mount the mules. Bobbie Whitnour, the noted bicyclist and the Princeton girls have a great motorcycle act entitled "The Cycle Whirl," and it is one of the best and most novel wheel acts in vaudeville. "The Aero-Notes" is a delightful farce built upon the perversion of a trio of men relative to aviation. The company consists of Lew Williams, and three female and two male assistants. It is a continuous scream of laughter. The Clairmont brothers with their revolutionary ladder present a European novelty in the acrobatic line, the like of which has never been seen around here. Stevens and Vicara, two brightly misuses from the west, do an acceptable singing and dancing act with appropriate scenic effects. The Western two women, including a ludicrously funny English house maid and a capable soprano and a man present a very funny comedy sketch with musical features. Catherine Croft and company have an up-to-date college comedy entitled "Roommates," which is one of the most enjoyable things on the bill. As an added attraction George Callahan and company, New England's foremost scene shifters, show the public how a stage is stripped and reset within a fifty without confusion or mistake. Then there are the pictures.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

On Saturday afternoon Miss Constance Jackson is to give a candy matinee to all the children who attend. Miss Jackson will meet the little ones after the performance and present each with a gift of candy. Many new friends each day. John L. Sullivan presents a monologue entitled "Past and Present" in which he tells several interesting stories of his past life. Our stock company presenting one of Sidney Grandy's brightest plays, entitled "A Happy Pair," appears in one of the best things seen in many months. In it Miss Constance Jackson and Kendall Weston are engaged in the east and their work renders their superior ability as entertainers.

Miss Geraldine Ferrell, harpist and vocalist, is a charming young woman with unusual talent, and is scoring a big hit at all performances. Magee and Kerry, presenting a humorous sketch entitled "In a Department Store," is one of the funniest creations in present day vaudeville. It's a roar of laughter from the time the pair appear until their exit.

The photo-plays for the last three days of the week are new and novel and up to the usual standard of the past. They are the kind that have educational value as well as being highly entertaining. The views of world-wide events are especially attractive. Tonight the Merrimack Square theatre concert orchestra will feature selections from the opera "The Red Mill." Next week's bill will again be of the attractive kind and should give general satisfaction. Patrons are reminded of the fact that the subscription list is still open. Those wishing to have their favorite seats reserved for them from week to week should have their names placed on the list. It costs no more.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Laughter still reigns supreme at the Academy of Music for the sketch entitled "The Secret" has everybody in screams.

Major Ralph, a sensational juggler, has a few tricks with the flying stick that would not be safe for an amateur to practice in the dining room.

"The Dental Engagement" by the Hatfield Stock company is a scream from beginning to end and a little song and dance by Mr. Whalen and Miss Hatfield is very cleverly executed. The pictures, especially "The Ordeal," are some of the cleverest ever shown.

IMMIGRATION MAY BE RESTRICTED

As a result of the Lawrence strike members of congress have come to a realization of the fact that is not new, that some of the highly protected industries of this country draw upon the cheapest labor they can get from Europe. That was found to be the case in Lawrence and it has been the case in many other cities for some years past. The immigrants from southern Europe pour in here and secure employment. In many cases they do not intend to remain here and where this is the case they live poorly and hoard their money or send it home for safe keeping. Under such circumstances it is not surprising that they do not readily fall into the ways of this country and that in case of trouble they are easily swayed by anarchists and others who claim to sympathize with them. There is a sentiment abroad at the present time and it is shared by congressmen, in favor of restricting immigration of this nature by applying an literacy test that would undoubtedly bar a very considerable number of those who are least desirable in the incoming tide of immigration.

Another thing demonstrated by the Lawrence strike and one that was generally known in every textile city in the land is that while the manufacturers made a special plea for high protection in order to be able to pay good wages, the mill men of Lawrence forgot about their wage earners and pocketed the bulk of the profits.

HEARST AND WILSON

Hearst is at his political antics again. He has ruled Governor Woodrow Wilson out of the democratic party. Let us see. Since when did Hearst come into possession of the democratic party that it is his to say who shall belong and who shall not. Hearst is one of the worst political mountebanks in the country. In 1903 he ran against the democratic candidate for mayor of New York and in 1906 he organized the Independence league, with the support of which he captured the democratic nomination for governor. In 1907 the Hearst league united with the republicans against the democratic party in New York city; in 1908 he put the Independence league in the field with a national ticket and in 1910 he ran for lieutenant governor on the third party ticket. Yet after all these acts of treachery this man, still claiming to be a democrat, undertakes to pass upon the genuineness of Governor Wilson's democracy. Hearst has not yet indicated just what he intends to do in this campaign beyond the fact that he can always be relied upon to work mischief of some kind. Hearst is the champion bolter of the country.

WILSON AS AN ORATOR

As an orator Governor Woodrow Wilson seems to eclipse even William Jennings Bryan but while oratory alone may capture a nomination it will not and cannot capture an election. In a speech at Pittsburgh, Pa., a year before being nominated for governor of New Jersey, Governor Wilson cast off this piece of eloquence:

"The great voice of America does not come from seats of learning. It comes in a murmur from the hills and woods and the farms and factories and the mills, rolling on and gaining volume until it comes from the bosoms of common men. Do these murmurs echo in the corridors of universities? I have not heard them.

"The universities would make men forget their common origins; forget their universal sympathies and join a class—and no class can serve America.

"Nations are renewed from the ranks of unknown men. National life is renewed from the bottom and not from the top.

"The common man has a divine right of a chance to arise."

WOMEN AS TRUANT OFFICERS

It is quite likely that the bill before the legislature of this state providing that school committees may appoint women as truant officers will become law. Women can control some children by moral suasion when men would have to resort to sterner methods. The woman truant officer will be able to give more attention to girls than they have formerly received. We have few girl truants but many girl delinquents and to these the woman truant officer might direct her attention with profit.

The Amherst expedition to Patagonia has unearthed a fossil that is believed to have been the progenitor of the elephant. The expedition led by Professor Leptis proceeded on the assumption that animals ancestral to those of North America and Europe at one time inhabited Patagonia. The skull and neck of this mammoth animal have been found while four complete skeletons have also been discovered and one deposit gave up nearly 300 jaws and 24 complete skulls. The geologist of the party (thinks some of the fossils are 2,000,000 years old).

In the town of Barre in which labor leaders have settled a mill strike, the conditions are very much different from those of Lawrence. Most of the operatives live in the corporation houses as the operatives used to do in Lowell and Lawrence. The corporation tenement has gone and with it went the corporation boarding-house. The operatives are more independent when not living in the houses owned by the corporations.

The holding of two of the United Shoe Machinery men in $10,000 each on the charge of maintaining a monopoly in interstate commerce may appear formidable; but in view of the fact that the United States supreme court has sustained an unrestricted monopoly under the company's patents, the indictment is not likely to be followed by conviction.

The circulation of a leaflet instructing mothers in the care of children would do much good. Not all mothers need it, but a circular containing the best advice for the proper care of children might enlighten many of those who are not well informed on the subject.

SEEN AND HEARD

The Lowell Carpet company, I was told the other day, is finding business dull, but most of its machinery is being operated. The Lowell Hosiery is finding a ready market for its goods and I am told that they can readily sell all that the plant is capable of producing.

Thomas Martin who died in Chelsea on the 14th day of the present month, operated two mills in this city several years ago.

Mr. Martin founded the Provident Co-operative bank in Chelsea, and was president until his death. For seven years he was president of the First National bank of Chelsea, and a trustee of the Chelsea Savings bank. He was a prominent Mason and very active in church work. He is survived by his wife and two married daughters, the latter living in London, Eng.

The fact that corporal punishment is discouraged in the public schools of Chicago is what led Bobby's mother to address this note to the boy's mother: "Dear Mother—I regret very much to have to tell you that your son, Robert, idles away his time, is disobedient, quarrelsome and disturbs the pupils who are trying to study their lessons. He needs a good whipping and I strongly recommend that you give him one. Yours truly, Miss Blank."

To this Bobby's mother responded as follows: "Dear Mrs. Blank—Lick him yourself. I ain't mad at him. Yours truly, Mrs. Dash."

In court-martial trials in the United States army the attorneys are selected from among the officers at the post, regardless of their lack of legal training or their inability to handle a case.

One young officer, a surgeon, whose ignorance was bliss so far as the law was concerned, found himself appointed "counsel for the defense" at the new post, and when he entered the court his only legal knowledge was that he had a right to "object" to the tactics of the other side. Accordingly, when one of his witnesses began to be cross-questioned, he sprang to his feet and shouted in a voice of thunder: "I object!"

"On what grounds?" echoed the prosecuting attorney.

"On what grounds?" echoed the surgeon. "On mighty good grounds. Why, if my witness tells the truth when he answers that question, it will ruin the case!"

UNDRESSING THE BABY

Talk about fun! You should just see us when I am putting our baby to bed. We laugh and we shout and we go to it then.

Till I get a pain in my head. She climbs on my back for a ride up the stairs.

And I shout: "Get out of the way!" And always we upset a couple of chairs. As a sort of farewell to the day.

Then we get to her room and we bounce on the bed.

And I tickle her ribs and her toes. Till my cheeks and her cheeks get hot. Ridily red.

And my spectacles fall off my nose. Then I have to try to unbutton her shoes.

While she dances a jig on the spring. That's a trick that is certain the babe to amuse.

It is such an impossible thing.

Then she'll slip from the room and she'll race down the hall. "Come catch me now, daddy," she'll cry.

And just as I reach out to grasp her, I fall.

And pretend that I'm going to die. We gasp and we sigh between laughs for a rest.

Then zipl we go at it again. Till mother says: "Isn't that baby undressed?"

And off came her stockings right then.

It takes me an hour sometimes to undress.

That youngster of mine, for the fun; And if mother stayed downstairs, I'm free to confess.

Even then I might not get it done. But just about when I am all out of breath.

On the stairway we hear her soft head.

And she says: "You are romping that baby to death."

Go down now, I'll put her to bed."

CANADA IS LOSING

By Commercial Dealings With France

OTTAWA, Ont., March 22.—That Canada's commercial treaty with France is not entirely satisfactory to this country is indicated in a statement given to the house of commons by George L. Foster, minister of trade and commerce. The treaty has been in force three years and last year Canada bought from France $5,000,000 more than it sold to that country. The statement was provoked by a resolution urging steps to increase the trade and it was shown that ever since the treaty was signed France has been raising the minimum tariff against Canada. This affects the volume of exports. Improved steamship service is now proposed as one means of stimulating trade.

THE LAMSON CO.

Has Made Big Addition to Plant in Walker Street

The new addition to the Lamson Consolidated Store Service company plant in Walker street is about completed. The exterior is finished and men are now engaged putting the finishing touches to the interior of the structure. The erection of the new building is the result of a continued increase in business. When finished the company will be able to more than supply the great number of orders, and will also have ample room to make trials and experiments. It is a very beautiful structure and adds greatly to the surroundings of the spacious plant.

The work on the building was started on November first and though the weather was severe, operations continued until the present time. The foundation of the structure is laid mostly on a ledge and is very substantial. The structure is of four stories, and the first will be known as the basement. The entire building is made of reinforced concrete. Steel cables are installed and these afford many windows.

The dimensions of the building are 150x50 feet and the floor area is 24,000 square feet. It is a fireproof construction, even to the doors. There is a very large elevator, 9x12, which was made by the Otis company of Buffalo. The floors are of cement with a wood covering as it would be impossible to install machinery on the concrete floors. The building will be known as Still No. 3.

The plumbing of the mill is in the hands of the H. R. Barker company of Lowell and calls for absolute hygienic and sanitary work.

The heating and other piping will be done by the Carroll brothers of this city. All the accessories are of modern style and everything is in connection with the building is of the latest design.

The new structure will be used for the general work of the company. All the departments that are now inadequate to turn out their respective lines of work will have space in this building. For the present the basement will be utilized as a storage room for patterns and the assembly of all large work. The first floor proper will be a pattern and carpenter room combined. On the second floor the heavy machinery work will be done. The top floor will be used for the present for the storage of material and machinery from some of the other departments.

The Broadway side of the building while of substantial construction is only temporary. This was done so additions might easily be made. In the event of more room being necessary the end will be torn out and the extension made. While now some machinery has been installed, taken from the old mill, most of the machinery to be used in the addition will be new. The installation of the machinery will continue from now on and Supt. Stevens expects that work in the addition will be started the first of April.

The designing and engineering of the new mill was done by the Lockwood Green company of Boston. This company makes a specialty of the erection of industrial buildings.

The resident engineer of the company on the Lamson building is T. Herbert Piles of Boston. Mr. Piles has had considerable experience in this work.

Employed 50 Men

The construction of the building is the work of the Aberthaw Construction company, with offices in Boston. The latter company's men came here and broke ground on Nov. 1. The construction was directed by J. D. Henderson and he employed about 50 men. The men from the time the foundation was started worked continually until the work was finished. All during the severe winter, work was done, and the men experienced some very disagreeable weather. During the extreme cold weather, a system of heating was used and canvas coverings were also pressed into service. To complete the few minor details of the building some of the men will remain at the building for about a week.

Though practically completed the mill has not been turned over to the Lamson company yet. Engineer Piles is still on the job and will remain until everything is in tip top shape.

The building is certainly a model structure and will greatly increase the work of the progressive establishment.

Supt. Stevens

In conversation with a representative of The Sun, Supt. D. J. Stevens said that work in all the departments of the company is rushing. He says that the present quarters are inadequate and the new building was the only solution to the problem. One of the principal reasons for the remarkable expansion in the business of the company is due to the great amount of work that the company is doing for the government. The large battleship hoists which are for the automatic discharge of ammunition, are still being made and are in great demand. This work is very delicate and important and more room is needed in the department where these are made.

Experimenting on Hoist

At the present time an experiment is being made on a hoist of enormous size and it is perfected, and the officers of the company are confident that it will be a great success. The hoist is the one now being turned out by the company. Among the ships using the local hoist is the battleship New Jersey and the hoists are giving good satisfaction. The New Jersey is one of the largest ships in the navy and was the first to adopt the local hoist. At the time that the government selected the hoist, a test was held in this city. It was then forwarded to Washington, where a most severe test and inspection was held and the local invention stood the test. Since then the New Jersey has used it with great success.

The manufacturing of the hoists is the most important and requires skilled and competent workmen and Supt. Stevens says that the company has them. While this cannot be termed an innovation, says Supt. Stevens, it with other recent machinery has increased the business of the company to large proportions. "While now we are working on normal time, continued the superintendent, 'about all the winter we were obliged to work overtime to supply all our orders.'"

"With the new addition, however, we expect to be able to turn out all our orders without running extra time. In the event, though, of not having room enough, the temporary end to the building will be torn out and an extension made." He further said that when the model hoist that the men are working on at the present time is completed a test will be held in the yard of the company in Walker street. If this test is satisfactory the model will be sent to the government officials in Washington.

TRAINS WERE LATE

Freight Delayed by the Storm

Many of the freight trains arriving in this city were very late yesterday. The cause of the delay is said to be the storm. Today, however, all are running on good time.

DEFENDANT'S STORY

Dr. Ferguson Testifies in the Bolduc Case

BOSTON, March 22.—Dr. John D. Ferguson of Manchester, N. H., on trial with Mrs. Annie Reed of Boston and Miss Mary O'Neill of Manchester for being concerned in the death of Miss Marie Bolduc, took the witness stand today in his own behalf. He recounted in detail his professional relations with the girl and denied that he had ever treated her except to advise a poultice for an abscess. He admitted that he and Miss O'Neill went to Boston with Miss Bolduc and that all three visited the house of Mrs. Reed, who was about to leave for New Hampshire. He declared that he started home with the understanding that the Bolduc girl was going to the house of Mrs. Shar-tuck in Roxbury.

His testimony agreed with that given by Mrs. Reed and Miss O'Neill in nearly all details. When he reached the Shar-tuck house after being summoned from Manchester to identify the body of a girl he said that he found that an attempt had been made to cut it up. It was his belief that when he reached the house on Dec. 29th the girl had been dead several days.

SEARCH FOR BANDITS

Sheriffs and Posse Unable to Locate the Allen Outlaws

HILLSVILLE, Va., March 22.—Out in the hills and mountains along the Virginia-North Carolina border today are all of the sheriffs, detectives and posse men enlisted for the pursuit of the Allen outlaws, apparently determined to stay in the field this time until they have run down something besides false clues. Just where the hunters are or what they are doing no one here knows. This community awoke today in a state of excited expectancy over Governor Mann's announcement that steps were being taken which he believed would result in the capture of the Allens shortly. No linking of the nature of the proposed coup has been given out, however. Fear that information as to the plans and movements of the searchers will leak to the fugitives has even resulted in an attempt to censor press dispatches.

According to stories reaching here, Didan Allen and his four nephews not only have been in this vicinity since they shot up the Carroll court a week ago yesterday but, since then, have been actually living in the hills two nights at his own home. It is said that the mountaineers have constantly watched their pursuers through field glasses and have used successfully a rifle shot code system.

Floyd Allen, the old man whose sentence to a year in jail for interfering with an officer precipitated the killing of judge, prosecutor, sheriff, a juror and a young girl has given out an interview from the Roanoke jail carefully censored by his attorney. No reference to the tragedy itself was made by the prisoner. He gave a sketch of his life and an account of the events leading up to his indictment for interfering with an officer and denied emphatically that he had ever made "moonshine" whiskey.

His son, Victor, also a prisoner, said that he took no part in the courthouse shooting, that he went to Hillsville armed to make a witness for his father and after the tragedy made an effort to get away because he was innocent.

Sidna Edwards is the younger of the two Edwards brothers and the more venturesome. It was reported several have always remained as an unending subject of discussion. The board of trade, who is asserted to be a person striking at the very vitals of the nation's safety.

The arguments used in this connection are not new. In 1850, exactly the same prophetic of doom and disaster and social degradation were used against the opening of the land and Germany in 1870, as are today used against the Italian, Slav, Jew and Syrian today. Except that thirty years ago these opposing the claim of that day did not have the experience of almost two generations of contact with a number of alien races who have been absolutely assimilated, and whose presence in this nation has been the largest factor in the great progress and development which has taken place since the Civil war.

To hear a man or woman born in a foreign land, who has to some extent experienced the life of modernized civilization and felt the influence of modern poverty due to political conditions, declare in broken English, that immigration should be restricted, would be funny. It is not a pathetic example of the low quality of human nature, which measures happiness by its ability to get all four feet and snout in the trough and hold it against the crowd.

I will not weary you with statistics. Government reports show that about 25,000,000 immigrants have come into the United States since 1820, not counting the other millions that have arrived from and via Canada, which were not counted officially until within recent years. These figures of arrivals are, however, of little value because we know that many of these immigrants have been counted over and over again.

Haphazard Inspection

Up to 1855 inspection was haphazard. Immigrants were landed directly at the dock, and practically everybody who sought admission was permitted to land. After 1855 the state of New York attempted some official inspection which was largely perfunctory. The United States government did not assume control of immigration inspection until twenty years ago, and not until then was there a beginning of the weeding out of the undesirable. Since 1891 the inspection process has been improved every year. Under the law, the diseased and crippled, infirm and undischarged may be excluded, and large numbers of immigrants are deported every year because they fail to meet a certain standard and are likely to become public charges if allowed to land. The value of this sifting process is largely, however, in its influence upon undesirable, and its chastening influence on transportation companies who are punished if they willfully bring aboard who are within the excluded classes. It is undoubtedly true that despite the best efforts on the part of the immigration officers, until immigrants are sometimes landed, and nobody, not selfishly interested in the earnings of immigrants, or the exploitation of their labor, believes that any immigrant should be allowed to land who is in any way likely to become a public charge or a menace to the country, or is there opposition to any further strengthening of the immigration law to ensure that all admitted shall be of sound physical and mental stature. Neither can there be reasonable opposition to a medical restriction of the franchise to ensure that every alien shall not be entitled to vote until he can read, write and understand the principles of the American form of government. In a large part of this country the right to vote, the highest prize of freedom, is given away as if it were not worth anything. In this world the value of a thing is measured by the difficulty with which it is obtained, and the sureness with which it is guarded.

No Conflict of Opinion

Regarding the influence of the Irish, German and French Aliens, there is no conflict of opinion. If there had been no restriction, we would not have shown the progress of the last fifty years. The special services rendered by the alien are so well known that they need not even be mentioned. It is a true story as in the old days that the immigrants coming to the United States are the strongest, bravest and most adventurous of the races from which they came. In Spain, the Helot purchased his admission to citizenship by service to the country in battle. In the United States aliens have purchased their right to live in this country by that elemental labor which must be performed before any higher form of labor can be applied. If the supply of alien labor, supervised as it is by the immigration officers, is ever cut off, shutting out this supply of elemental labor, will be to retard our national progress.

MAJOR CHAS. PROCTOR, Chairman Reception Committee.

Regarding crime, all the direct official evidence there is, points to the fact that the foreign-born has not contributed to the crime or prison population more largely than the native whites of the same age and sex resid-

THE D.S. O'Brien Co. Label Guarantees Value

So many cases of dissatisfaction with the wear of certain soft faced Winter Overcoats fabrics have come to our attention, we are printing this advertisement for the benefit of those customers who have any cause for complaint.

THE D. S. O'BRIEN CO. LABEL GUARANTEES Value

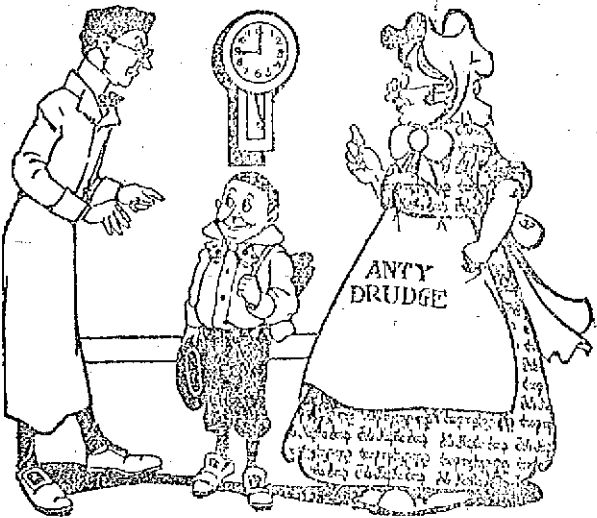

That's our platform and we'll stand on it squarely. If you have one of those Overcoats that hasn't given reasonable wear, bring it back.

We make no excuses for the garment, or for ourselves. The public demanded them, and we, like other merchants, had to give the public what it wanted, or lose business. They were not suitable for hard service. Their value was in their attractiveness, and though we didn't recommend them for wear we won't shirk the responsibility that goes with the sale. Our guarantee of satisfaction is broad, and applies to these as well as every article we sell.

Now you come at nine o'clock, you used to come at noon."

And always gets me ready, to come to school at nine."

Fels-Naptha Soap won't gather your soiled clothes, put them to soak, rinse them and hang them out on the line.

But that's about all it leaves you to do with the weekly washing.

It takes the place of boiling and hard rubbing and takes all the dread out of washday.

It saves your making a hot fire because Fels-Naptha Soap cleanses the clothes in cool or lukewarm water.

No stewing over a hot suds.

No roughening or reddening of the hands.

Isn't it worth while? Both in Winter and Summer.

More than a million women are doing their washing with Fels-Naptha Soap every week and thanking their lucky stars that they've found a so-much-easier way.

Better join them now.

All that's necessary is to get a cake of Fels-Naptha and follow directions printed on the red and green wrapper.

ing in the same parts of the country, and what indirect evidence there is points to the other way. Considering major crimes and serious offenses, almost exactly the same proportion of native born whites are committed to prisons as the foreign born whites of the same age.

The report of the United States Immigration Commission for 1911 shows that among children of ten to fourteen years of age, born of native white stock, 44 in 1000 cannot write, among children of aliens of the same age, only 9 cannot write. This is due to the fact that both the immigrant and schools are more abundant in the north than in the south, and in the cities than in the country.

The census of 1910 shows 5 1/2 million persons over ten years of age in this country unable to read and write, with comparatively to the population, a third less illiterates. In 1910 in the United States there were found ten years previously. Of five and a half million persons in this country, over ten years of age, who cannot read, about 40 per cent, or 2,200,000 are negroes; while 1,555,500 are native whites, and 1,700,000 aliens. In other words, only a little more than 30 per cent. of the illiteracy shown in the 1910 census is found among the alien born.

A phase which is not generally known, and most serious in importance, the immigration of American farmers into Canada, and every year we are facing a loss of some of the very best of our people, whom we want to remain here. In the ten years from 1901 to 1911, 620,000 emigrants from the United States went to Canada and this movement increased from 18,055 emigrants in 1901 to 121,451 in 1911. 72 per cent. of this movement were farmers, 8 per cent. mechanics and only 11 per cent. general laborers. Of this number, in 1910, the agricultural states of Wisconsin, North Dakota, Minnesota, Washington, Iowa and South Dakota, where there is no alien immigration problem, actually lost 119,070 emigrants. In 1910 and 1911, 15,630 persons went to Canada from Massachusetts alone.

The congressional deacons who controlled political and commercial affairs in Massachusetts 50 years ago may not have been enthusiastic over the alien, but they were inspired by a high sense of duty and moral conviction, and felt that they owed it to the nation, as well as to the alien, that they should take a personal interest in the guidance and training of the immigrant in the duties of citizenship and Americanism. When the history of the last half of the nineteenth century is written, the unselfish, patriotic and high-minded work of the native element in accepting this alien inflow as a necessary aid to national development, and wisely directing it into channels of patriotic and efficient citizenship, must be recognized.

Love of Liberty

The alien races coming in today are in no way different in their inherent love of liberty than were the races of fifty years ago. The struggles of the Jews, Poles, Greeks and Italians for racial identity and as preservers of liberty and civilization illuminate the history of Europe since the Christian era. Nothing in nature is ever lost and the elements that made these races great in the past, still endure in their descendants, who are only asking for that liberty of opportunity under our law which a good example set by the native stock which up to now has always been found in this country, for all their greatness and virtues to blossom once again, for our benefit.

Put yourself in the place of an incoming alien, why, if he can believe the daily press and the magazines, is informed that those functions of government unseen to the ordinary man, are in a state of demoralization. Congress is charged with inefficiency and dishonesty. The chief executive is alleged to be only a puppet in the hands of the capitalistic monopolies; the courts are denounced as corrupt and partisan; every corporation manager is held up as a thief, and all together are charged as being in combination to cheat labor out of the proper share of its toil. For those functions of government, with which he comes into daily contact, the alien finds under the unpaid board system of Massachusetts, that the commissions in charge of health, factory inspection and other labor laws, disregard their duties, so that his menace of sickness and death is about 20 per cent. greater than it could have been in the country which he has left. Instead of the stern and wise advisor of the natives, with resident employers who knew personally and understood his workpeople, the alien now works under a non-resident mill ownership, as in Lawrence, Mass., where he has left. Because of the advance in the cost of living we are going through a period of unrest and disturbance. For 14 years prices have been going up. Wages have advanced about half as much as the increase in the cost of living. The ones on whom the increase in the cost of living falls heaviest are salaried workers, clerks, government employees, etc., and persons who live on inherited incomes. The clerk receiving $23 a week, fourteen years ago, whose salary has not been raised, is actually receiving in purchasing power only about $16 a week today. The salaried and government class, and those living on inherited incomes have been hit hard by the increase in the cost of living. They

BASEMENT

MANY FOREIGNERS

Arrived in This City Yesterday and Today

There is a great increase in the number of foreigners coming to this country at the present time. Most of the aliens are landing in New York from where they take trains to different sections of the country. Many are coming this way. Yesterday the train that connects with the New York boat at Fall River brought sixty from the old world to this city. These arrived in the morning and while a few remained in the city the most of them took trains to other places.

The majority of those who arrived in this city yesterday were Russian Poles. Those who left went to Lawrence, Haverhill, Manchester, N. H. and Berlin, N. H. They went on the morning train, leaving here for Lawrence and Haverhill on the 9.19 train; for Manchester on the 9.33 train, and those going to Berlin took the 10.33 train. Today another colony of aliens arrived here. The number was 25. These were mostly Russian Poles and they, too, remained here only to take trains for other places. Of the party that came here today four took the 11.59 train for Fall River. In this party there were three women and one man. The others went to Lawrence, Haverhill and Manchester. The costumes of the visitors attracted considerable attention. The women in both parties, and they seemed to be in the majority, wore large white shawls over their heads. They carried large bundles and bags. One of the men who came yesterday had a straw hat on and he attracted much attention at the depot.

In the sixth though his condition became serious and though he wanted to continue his seconds had the bout stopped.

Young Murray got a decision over Ah Chung, the Salem Chinaman, and Billy Edwards of Lawrence won over Young Labreau of Lynn. Tim Coffey of this city knocked out Young Lacey of Marblehead in the second round.
